England Joins With Roosevelt On European Security

SIMON BACKS U.S. ATTITUDE IN COMMONS

Improved Confidence Necessary Adjunct to Disarmament, House Told RIVALRY CONDEMNED
United States Paid Tribute by Leading Spokesmen of British Government

LONDON, May 26.—(UP)—Great Britain joined with President Roosevelt today in a common attitude towards European security demands.

In a historic pronouncement in the house of commons, Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, announced Britain's unequivocal support of the United States attitude on "security pacts" and informed the continental powers that Britain would assume no further obligations than she has already taken to protect them from war.

Sir John paid eloquent tribute to the offer of the United States to modify its old policy of neutrality—affecting the freedom of the seas doctrine—as a contribution to world peace.

"Britain," he said, now has "no ground for complaint whatever." "The old idea of standing with folded arms before a nation which is an aggressor and a nation which is oppressed is gone."

"I cannot express how much we should value this effort now being made by the American government and by its president to cooperate with us and abandon a tradition which the American people themselves jealously guarded."

The American way of looking at the problem of consultative pacts, Sir John said, is also "characteristically the British way of looking at it, namely, she must judge the circumstances at a time when these circumstances are known."

In contrast with that, there is another way of approach—to make declarations in cold blood and in cold print prescribing the course of action one might take," he continued. "That is the continental way. It is thoroughly characteristic of the continental mind—I mean no reproach—that it approaches all these things with the belief, 'you

CONTROL OF OIL IS NEEDED, SAYS ICKES

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(UP)—Federal control of the nation's oil output is necessary if the industry is to be preserved, Secretary of Interior Ickes testified before the senate finance committee today in urging inclusion of the Capper-Marland bill in the administration's public works-industrial recovery bill.

"Government regulation is absolutely essential," Ickes told the committee which is holding hearings on the revolutionary industrial recovery bill.

The petroleum control bill in its present form would set up an administrator empowered to consult representatives of the various oil producing states for the purpose of curbing overproduction.

VERBAL TRUCE AGREED ON BY CHINESE, JAPAN

Representatives Will Meet Monday to Sign Armistice, Reported

TOKIO, May 26.—(UP)—Chinese and Japanese representatives have reached a verbal truce to end fighting in the Peiping region and will meet Monday at a place not yet selected to conclude an armistice, a Japanese government spokesman said today.

This report was more circumstantial than the last from the same source, which was denied angrily by the Chinese and was echoed by intensified artillery fire in the war zone.

Today's statement was that staff officers of Japan's Kwangtung army and a personal representative of General Ho Ying-Ching, Chinese minister of war, reached a verbal truce at Juijui, of Hwaijiu, 40 miles northeast of Peiping yesterday.

According to the Japanese spokesman, Ho's representative said his chief would accept the terms. He has expressed eagerness to end the fighting around Peiping and avoid slaughter of civilians.

The spokesman said that terms of the verbal truce called for a line from Changping, 25 miles northwest of Peiping, southeastward to Lutai, on the coast 90 miles southeast of the beleaguered city.

It was said that the Japanese reserved freedom to advance if organized or irregular troops attacked them.

Also it was said that the truce did not extend to the Manchukuo soldiers of General Ting Chiang which have been operating with the Japanese.

ADJOURN MITCHELL CASE TO NEXT WEEK

NEW YORK, May 26.—Further aspects of the involved transaction through which Charles E. Mitchell claimed a tax loss of $758,000 on the sale of Anaconda copper stock to E. D. Thornton, president of the Greene Cananea Copper company will be presented to a federal court jury today, and then the case will be adjourned until Wednesday.

The extended week end recess is required for disposition of other cases piling up because of the length of the banker's trial for alleged income tax evasion. The government has not yet concluded presentation of the second of three phases of its case.

CALIFORNIAN HELD FOR GUN CARRYING

NEW YORK, May 26.—(UP)—Harry Dibble, 27, who described himself as an explorer and heir to a California fortune, was held on a gun-carrying charge today after he arrived on the steamer Sylvia.

Morgan Quiz Recesses To Wednesday

Sen. Glass Insists Employment of Pecora Never Was Authorized

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(UP)—Senator Glass, Dem., Va., today interrupted the senate investigation of J. P. Morgan and Company to insist that employment of Ferdinand Pecora as committee counsel, never had been authorized by the subcommittee in charge of the inquiry.

Chairman Fletcher supported Pecora.

The inquiry adjourned until 10 a. m. next Tuesday.

Glass had been pecking away at Pecora all week. There was a sudden flare up today with the aged Virginian pounding the table in complaint.

Senator Couzens, Rep., Mich., backed Pecora to the limit and insisted that Chairman Fletcher rule whether his line of inquiry into the Morgan and Company financing methods were within the limits of the authority conferred by the senate in proposing the investigation.

Fletcher then ruled in favor of Couzens.

Glass interrupted as Pecora revealed details of Morgan and Company's financing of the United Corporation, Utilities Holding company.

Senator Glass, interrupted the proceedings just as George Howard finished his statement and George Whitney was recalled to the stand. Glass protested that the committee was being "kept in ignorance" as to "where this investigation is going."

Asks Question
"I'm tired of sitting around here in absolute ignorance of where we are going or where we're being taken," the senator said. "I think the committee is entitled to know. I'd just like to know what it's all about here today."

Turning to Howard, Glass asked: "I want to ask if anything revealed here this morning is in violation of either state or federal statutes."

"No, sir."

After a few remarks, Glass then said: "Well, I want to know what it's all about."

Glass demanded to know what was "going on" in the hearing room, complaining sharply that he as a member of the subcommittee had not been told in advance what Pecora intended to develop.

The crowd broke into loud applause, the first during the investigation, when Pecora hotly replied to Glass.

The committee prosecutor flared under the attack of Glass. Pecora said he had not sought the job as investigator and the "compensation of $225 a month is no incentive to continue."

The applause at this point provoked Glass into a sharp retort. "This is a circus. All we lack is peanuts and pink lemonade," Glass said.

Commends Counsel
Senator Costigan, Dem., Colo., stepped into the argument to defend Pecora, saying he wanted to

NORMAN DAVIS SAYS WILL NOT RESIGN

GENEVA, May 26.—(UP)—Norman H. Davis, United States chief delegate at the disarmament conference, does not intend to resign under fire, though for months he has wanted to retire, the United Press learned today in seeking Davis' reply to sensational attacks on him in connection with the revelation that he owed money to J. P. Morgan and company.

Davis would make no statement himself regarding the senatorial inquiry into Morgan's affairs, or the news that he was one of those on Morgan's preferred stock list. But it was learned that he will not resign in such circumstances as might make it appear he was retreating because of the hearing or the attacks on him.

STANFORD IC4A HOPES HIT AS LES HABLES BEATEN IN DASH; EASTMAN 3RD IN 800 METERS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 26.—(UP)—Stanford University, favorite to win the I. C. 4-A track and field games, got off to a perfect start today by winning four of the six qualifying places in the 16-pound shot put.

Stanford appeared to have suffered its first reverse when Les Hables, its star sprinter, was shut out in the first semi-final heat of the 100 meter dash.

Hardy, Cornell, won the heat in 108 with Parsons, Southern California, second and Maskrey, Pennsylvania, third. Hables was announced unofficially as fourth, just outside the qualifiers, but later it was announced photographs would be studied before the official result was determined.

Summaries:
Shot put (six to qualify): Lyman, Stanford, 51 ft. 9 in.; Dunn, Stanford, 51 ft. 7 in.; Harper, Southern California, 50 ft. 6 in.; Gray, Stanford, 49 ft. 7 in.; Dean, Harvard, 48 ft. 1 1/2 in.; Laborde, Stanford, 47 ft. 10 1/2 in.

100 meter dash (six to qualify): First, semi-final heat (unofficial): won by Hardy, Cornell; Parsons, Southern California, second; Maskrey, Pennsylvania, third; time 10.8 seconds.

WORLD'S FAIR TO BE OPENED ON SATURDAY

Century of Progress Exposition Puts Finishing Touches on Today

CHICAGO, May 26.—(UP)—The 1933 world's fair, which for five years Chicago has been building as a shrine of progress, was almost ready today for colorful opening ceremonies tomorrow.

Ten thousand workmen still labored feverishly to apply last minute touches to exhibits. Officials said nothing would be lacking when gates to the avenue of flags swung open at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

A spectacular, fast moving program will open the exposition, the second in Chicago's history. Gates to Soldier field, which seats 115,000 persons, will open at 9 o'clock. An hour later an Elgin time ball will drop at the north entrance, the signal for start of the Pageant of Nations.

With Postmaster General James A. Farley representing President Roosevelt, the parade will march down Michigan avenue and enter the stadium at 11 o'clock. Rufus Dawes, president of the exposition, Gov. Henry Horner, Mayor Edward J. Kelly and other state and national figures will lead the procession with Farley.

The most brilliant event on the opening day's program is set for 9 p. m. In the Hall of Science a beam of light from the star Arcturus will be captured, transformed into electric current, and used to close a master switch turning on the thousands of powerful, vari-colored lights over the entire exposition.

WOMAN KILLED AS HORSE FALLS ON HER

SALINAS, Calif., May 26.—(UP)—A horse which for three days stood faithful guard over the body of his mistress was blamed today for causing her death.

Cornelia J. A. Cornett said the horse apparently stumbled and fell on Mrs. Wanda Wright, 55-year-old ranchwoman, whose body was found yesterday near an irrigation ditch, on her 160-acre ranch in the Santa Lucia mountains. Her skull was crushed.

The horse slued away when searchers approached and refused to let them catch him. Yet when they carried the body away, the animal followed obediently, bridle trailing.

The horse was half starved.

Outline Plan For Keeping County Dry

Steps Taken at Mass Meet to Perfect Organization Next Monday

NUCLEUS OF an organization county-wide in scope and embracing all communities in the county for a determined effort to prevent the invasion of alcoholic liquor in Orange county was created, and criticism of the action of the board of supervisors in calling a plebiscite in this county was voiced at an enthusiastic meeting of strong dry forces from all parts of the county last night in the First Baptist church.

Action of the board of supervisors in voluntarily calling a plebiscite election in the county which made the formation of the county dry organization necessary was severely criticized by speakers last night.

An important point heretofore unmentioned was brought out by Thomas Pickrell, attorney, who declared that if Santa Ana votes for alcoholic beverages the town will be thrown wide open. He pointed out that the election will permit the raising of the alcoholic content of beverages to 3.2 per cent and that no provisions have been made for a liquor control ordinance to be voted on by the people.

He stressed the danger in leaving the matter of control in the hands of the city council. "It seems to me," he said, "that voters in Santa Ana are entitled to vote on a liquor control ordinance. If the city goes wet, voters will have nothing to say about who will sell liquor, to whom it will be sold or where it will be sold. We will vote to throw the town wide open if we vote for sale of alcoholic beverages, unless the council passes a regulatory ordinance."

Wets Seek Control
"While this council may do the right thing, perhaps the beer and wine interests will gain control of a future council which could pass any kind of a regulatory ordinance they desired. If the people had been permitted to vote on a liquor control ordinance at the same time as they vote on the liquor sale question, the regulations could not be changed except by a vote of the people."

GASTON MEANS GETS TWO YEAR SENTENCE

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(UP)—Gaston B. Means and Norman T. Whitaker were sentenced to two years' imprisonment today on Lindbergh ransom hoax charges.

Sentence was imposed by District Supreme Court Justice Daniel O'Donoghue immediately after he denied a motion for a new trial.

Means, former federal agent and Whitaker, lawyer and chess expert, were convicted two weeks ago on charges of conspiring to defraud Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, Washington stockist woman, of $35,000 on promise to negotiate return of the kidnapped son of Charles A. Lindbergh.

Lawyer Means was expected to be approved.

LAW DESIGNED TO AID BANKS SIGNED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 26.—(UP)—Another measure designed to aid California banks had become a law today after Governor Rolph had signed a measure giving the state bank superintendent power to borrow money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other federal agencies in behalf of closed banks.

Under terms of the measure the bank superintendent would have authority to pledge the assets of a bank in liquidation for a federal loan either for purposes of liquidation or reorganization.

The governor also signed a measure providing for formation of limited dividend housing corporations to build, under state supervision, low cost dwellings and apartments.

TONER WILL BE REMOVED FROM STATE OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 26.—(UP)—Dr. J. B. Harris, prominent Sacramento surgeon and past president of the California Medical association, has been offered the post of director of institutions, succeeding Dr. J. M. Toner, it was learned today on reliable authority.

Governor Rolph consulted Dr. Harris and definitely offered him the job. The surgeon was loath to accept, but agreed to take the matter under consideration.

Dr. Toner is scheduled to be demoted at his own request. This is an aftermath of the searching inquiry into the Rolph administration conducted by the Inman investigating committee.

Toner was under fire during the inquiry and was severely criticized by the committee reports. The governor's reply to the Inman committee's charges contained the observation that Toner was guilty of "political blunders" and had committed one "grave error," but maintained the director's mistakes were merely of judgment. The Rolph answer also revealed that Toner had decided his usefulness, because of the Inman inquiry publicity, as head of the department

THREE CITIES SEEK P.-T. A. CONFERENCE

SEATTLE, May 26.—(UP)—Three cities—St. Louis, Washington, and Des Moines, Iowa—were in the running today for the 1934 convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, meeting in final session here.

Although no election of officers is scheduled this year, delegates mentioned either Mrs. B. P. Langworthy, Winnetka, Ill., and Mrs. Frederick M. Hosmer, Auburn, N. Y., as a likely successor to Mrs. Hugh Bradford, Sacramento, Calif., as president.

The entire report of the resolutions committee, including strict enforcement of the 18th amendment and opposition to advertisement of alcoholic liquors over the radio, was expected to be approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED IN CONGRESS

Action Definitely Takes United States Off of Gold Currency Basis

ADMINISTRATION MOVE

Chairman Steagall Says Acting on Personal Orders from Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(UP)—Acting on White House orders, Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee today introduced a resolution to repeal the gold standard act of the United States.

This action, he said, definitely takes the United States off of the gold standard basis for its currency.

In addition, the resolution would make federal currency of all kinds legal tender for public and private debts.

A companion measure will be introduced later today in the senate.

"This means but one thing," Steagall said. "The United States has declared its independence of gold."

He asserted flatly that he was acting on personal orders from President Roosevelt.

"The Steagall measure," Secretary of the Treasury Woodin said upon leaving the White House, where he conferred with President Roosevelt, "has the approval of the administration."

"I will have a formal statement explaining this legislation at the conclusion of the cabinet meeting this afternoon," Woodin remarked.

The resolution, in effect, would remove the gold backing from all paper money, so far as demand collections from the treasury or its agencies are concerned.

Steagall added that all bonds issued in the future by the federal government would omit the famous "gold clause" pledging repayment in gold currency of the present weight and fineness. Instead, they would be made payable in "lawful money," which under the terms of the new administration would mean any type of currency issued by the federal government.

The new administration move was interpreted in informed congressional quarters as actually being a substitute for the gold content revaluation provision of the recently passed inflation act.

Some congressmen believed that the proposed resolution would also have the effect of reducing automatically the war debt owed the United States by European governments. It was believed they could now pay in "lawful money" and not in gold, as previously stipulated.

Information also reached democratic congressional leaders that the gold standard repeal could be forced into another weapon for use of American delegates at the forthcoming world economic conference. It provides,

Impressive Services Arranged For Memorial Day

ORDERS JOIN FOR CEREMONY AT CEMETERY

Memories of the nation's civic and martial glories, as well as of sacrifices of blood and treasure in defense of its institutions, will be revived next Tuesday, May 30, Memorial day, with appropriate joint memorial services under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic, the American Legion, the United Spanish War Veterans, the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and affiliated patriotic organizations.

Arrangements for the main services, which will be held at Fairhaven cemetery at 9 a. m., have been completed by Theo A. Bolte of the American Legion post, assisted by representatives of the participating veteran bodies. Following the services, more than 600 graves of veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World war will be decorated.

No Parade. Chairman Bolte explained that no plans have been made for a parade of any kind during the day, except a brief column formation at the main gate of Fairhaven, the age of many of the Grand Army men making the former custom impossible.

Members of the various veteran and patriotic organizations, planning to attend the services, will assemble in their respective cars on North Main street, from Fourth to Tenth, parking their cars facing north so as to make it easy to fall in line with the motor caravan as it starts for the cemetery. The cars should be in place alongside the curb before the sounding of "General assembly," at 8:30 sharp, the signal for moving the motor procession.

Church Services. Preceding the services scheduled next Tuesday is the customary annual church service for the members of the G. A. R. and their families, to be held next Sunday at 11 a. m. at the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the church, officiating. Members of Sedgewick Post, No. 17, G. A. R., and affiliated organizations, captained by Commander J. H. Brown, and carrying with the camp colors, will assemble at the K. P. Hall, Fifth and Broadway, at 10:30 a. m., and then, led by the Cozad Drum Corps, proceed to the Presbyterian church.

A similar church service for the members of the local post of the American Legion will be held at the First M. E. church next Sunday in conjunction with the regular 11 o'clock services. The Legionnaires will assemble at 10:40 a. m. at the court house, and then proceed in marching order to the church.

Plan to Drop Flowers. Some of the Veterans will decorate the graves of G. A. R. veterans, and members of Calumet Camp, U. S. W. V. and American Legion post, 131, will perform a similar service at the burial plots of men who served in the Spanish-American and in the World war.

Arthur C. Anderson, well-known Santa Ana almanac, accompanied C. A. Nussbaumer, local Legionnaire, will fly over the cemetery at 9 a. m., dropping flowers on the graves, a form of tribute paid departed buddies by Nussbaumer during the past three years.

Following the main services held in Fairhaven cemetery, there will be a special program in the afternoon at Birch park, set at 2 o'clock for the G. A. R. and affiliated bodies. Commander J. H. Brown of Sedgewick Post, No. 17, G. A. R., assisted by Quartermaster W. J. Lieser, also a member of the Sedgewick post, will be in charge of the program, which will be put on by sons and daughters of the old Union soldiers.

Following is the official program outlined by Chairman Bolte, in charge of arrangements.

Complete Program. 8 a. m. Placing cars in position on North Main street, between Fourth and Tenth, carrying veterans and their families to the cemetery. All cars to be parked, facing north.

8:35 a. m. Assembly of the American Legion Drum Corps at intersection of Fourth and Main streets.

8:50 a. m. General assembly will be sounded by trumpeters, being the signal for moving the motor caravan of assembled cars on its way to the cemetery. Upon arrival at the outer gates, all cars will be parked outside, and all veteran bodies, forming will proceed to the speaker's platform at the monument.

Following is the march formation at the main gate of the cemetery: Massed colors—United Spanish War Veterans—Furnishing color guard; American Legion Drum Corps; G. A. R. and affiliated units; United Daughters of Confederacy; United Spanish War Veterans and Auxiliary; Gold Star Mothers and fathers; Disabled American Veterans and Auxiliary; Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary; Canadian Legion; American Legion units; Drill Team, Post 131, American Legion Auxiliary; Auxiliaries of American Legion.

The program of the day follows: Opening announcement—Commander U. S. Glaze, Calumet camp, U. S. W. V.; invocation—Commander Walter M. Tripple, Orange Post 132, American Legion; introduction of speakers—N. E. Melster, commander of Santa Ana Post V. P. W.; announcement of special services—Harry S. Pickard, commander D. A. V.; Boy Scouts placing wreath on monument; firing salute by Company

Eklund New Guardian Of Cannon

"Heavy artillery," necessitating the aid of a two-ton truck, today was moved to the front yard of the residence of Arthur Eklund, adjutant of Santa Ana's Legion post, 1527 West Ninth street, where it was placed in firing position by a squad of trained Legionnaires.

The placing of the ordnance, an eight-inch solid shot mortar, marked the arrival of a boy to the Eklunds. The event took place this morning at St. Joseph's hospital.

The cannon was taken from the home of William Horace Moble, 609 West Fifth street, the last member of the Legion to be thus honored by his buddies. "It's old Spanish custom," the Legionnaires declared.

had diminished. Consequently he had requested the governor to transfer him to another post.

Since that time the governor has been endeavoring to locate a likely spot in his executive family for Dr. Toner. This task is the more complicated because the director wants a position as head of one of the state's institutions.

write it down in advance and all will come out all right."

He concluded by saying that although the nations are still not definitely agreed on the problem of the European security demand, "the contribution made by the American government goes far to meet that demand when coupled with provisions for the supervision of armaments."

"A necessary condition for achieving effective disarmament in European relations," he said, "should be improved confidence and restored co-operation to take the place of intense rivalry and suspicion."

Sir Austen Chamberlain described Simon's speech as "one of the most remarkable and encouraging statements made by a foreign minister in years."

"No more important declaration was ever made by one of the great governments in the world than was made at Geneva by Norman Davies," he said. "America, in making a reservation therein, however, reserved to herself no more than every power who sits with the League of Nations reserves for itself by the league covenant."

"I have no more doubt in the faith of the American people than I would doubt our own good faith to fulfill Locarno."

George Lansbury, labor leader, recalling the reputation of the Woodrow Wilson by congress, expressed skepticism of treaties generally and declared the Sino-Japanese war "has proved the utter futility of all treaty signing."

FOUND GUILTY OF DOPE POSSESSION

Found guilty last night by a jury in department three, superior court, on a charge of having marijuana in her possession, Mrs. Inez Lemos of La Jolla colony appeared before Judge G. K. Scovel this morning and applied for probation.

Hearing on her application was set for June 8.

Mrs. Lemos was arrested April 28 by federal narcotic bureau inspectors who testified that at the time of her arrest they found 40 tobacco cans filled with the flowering tops of the drug.

Testifying on her own behalf Mrs. Lemos told the jury that the narcotic weed was left in her possession by a Mexican known to her as Joe Arriego with the instructions that it was to be given to two men who would call for it. Mrs. Lemos said that the men had just called for the drug when the federal officers raided her home.

RECESS TAKEN BY PROBERS OF MORGAN'S FIRM

commend the counsel for his work so far.

Pecora's dark eyes shot one final flash at Senator Glass.

"I think I have been sustained in this particular line of questioning," he said.

On the fourth day of its Morgan inquiry, the committee developed evidence on the far-reaching interests of the United Corporation, a holding company whose books were kept in the Morgan office in New York and whose affairs were dictated largely from that imposing edifice at Broad and Wall streets.

George H. Howard, head of the United Corporation, was the witness. He began his testimony after an hour's delay in which the committee, meeting in secret, decided not to make public the names of Morgan partners who had negotiated loans from the firm.

Howard's testimony and evidence introduced in connection with it by Ferdinand Pecora, the Sicilian-born lawyer who is guiding the senate investigation, showed that companies in which United Corporation held stock served a population of 55,272,000.

Howard assured Pecora, however, that United Corporation does "not want to control and certainly does not control any of these corporations in which we have shares."

After Howard said that United Corporation directors' meetings occurred in Newark, N. J., Pecora asked:

"How much of a staff do you have in Newark?"

"An assistant secretary is all," Many Conferences.

Howard then revealed that there were frequent conferences in New York at his own office, that of George Whitney, or elsewhere.

"Do you mean by Mr. Whitney's office the office of J. P. Morgan & Co.?"

"I do."

"Where are the books of United Corporation kept?"

"At J. P. Morgan & Co."

"Whose bookkeepers write up the accounts?"

"It is under the supervision of Mr. Keyes."

Leonard Keyes is the Morgan office manager.

The largest percentage of control by United Corporation is 23.9 per cent of Niagara & Hudson Power company common and 29.3 per cent of Niagara & Hudson option "E" warrants. The holding company has 20.9 per cent of Columbia Gas & Electric and more than 2,000,000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern common and preferred.

United Corporation owns 26.1 per cent of 6,096,233 shares of the United Gas & Improvement company of Philadelphia.

The companies under the United banner are spread generally through the east, south and parts of the mid-west.

Howard said that of the United corporation directors three are Morgan partners and two are partners in Bondbright & Co., a New York banking firm.

Howard said that United's staff consisted of a secretary, an office boy and a vice president. Howard gave his own directorships as follows:

United Corporation, New York United Corporation, United Gas Improvement Co., Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, Mohawk Hudson Power Co., Frontier Corporation, St. Lawrence Securities Corporation, Electric Bond and Share Co., Common Wealth and Southern, and others.

COUNTY BOARD CRITICIZED BY DRY WORKERS

dry worker and president of the Santa Ana Dry association, who presided over the meeting declared that "some disgusting things have been done by officials who sought dry votes a short time ago and who now see the trend toward alcoholism." "These officials," he declared, "want to climb on the beer wagon and off the water wagon. We had better elect them to stay at home next time. They have broken the traditions of the county for the past 30 years but I predict that in a short time the county will be drier than ever."

Lauds Mitchell. The Rev. Grover Ralston, Garden Grove, lauded Supervisor John G. Mitchell for voting against calling a county election on the alcoholic beverage question, declaring he was proud to live in the same district with the supervisor.

Describing his early life in Kentucky, the Rev. Mr. Ralston pointed out that he had seen many bootleggers before the eighteenth amendment was adopted and had seen the fearful consequences of using alcohol. "Schools now stand in Kentucky where previously there were distilleries and moonshine stills," he said. "I'm here to fight liquor until hell freezes over. It is a known fact that 3.2 per cent beer is intoxicating." He announced that on Sunday night he will preach on the subject, "Blowing the Foam off the Board of Supervisors" and that Supervisor Mitchell would explain why he voted dry against all other supervisors.

Student Speaks. Robert Clinegan, Santa Ana Junior college student, delivered an inspirational talk on the subject, "Alcohol in a Machine Age."

"The machine age," the speaker said, "brought us many wonders, but with these blessings came certain problems and demands and in these alcohol has no place. In our modern life we are under a constant strain and must ever be on the alert. This is no place for alcohol, a known poison banned by athletes."

"Dangers in factory work demand an alertness the driver does not have. Automobile accidents kill thousands of people annually. How many more will be killed if drunken drivers are at the wheel? Gasoline and alcohol do not mix."

The speaker pointed to the folly of attempting to balance budgets with revenues from sale of alcohol, declaring that the costs of caring for those impoverished through the use of alcohol would amount to twice as much as the revenues, not taking into consideration the train of broken homes and lives which would be strewn in the wake of alcohol. He pointed out that money spent for liquor cannot buy anything else, and pointed out that alcohol is a social menace because it lowers the morality of a nation.

Prizes Awarded. A feature of the meeting was the awarding of first prize in the essay contest sponsored by the Santa Ana Dry association on why beer should not be sold in Santa Ana to E. Beamer, Santa Ana. Attorney Pickrell, one of the judges, made the award to Beamer and to George A. Barrows, who won second prize.

Both of the winners read their essays.

In a brief talk, the Rev. Mr. Hicks declared that people are not taking enough interest in the state repeal convention. He stressed the importance of drys voting to record their sentiments in its psychological effect on other states which will not have voted on the measure.

He predicted that President Roosevelt will be out of the White House long before the eighteenth amendment is repealed, pointing out that it takes but 12 states to vote dry to keep the eighteenth amendment in force and that authorities have estimated that at least 17 states will vote dry.

The Rev. Mr. Hicks complimented J. F. Burke on his work for the dry cause and urged dry voters to roll up a large vote for his election as a dry delegate to the state convention.

He outlined the election situation in Santa Ana, declaring that canvasses of voters made so far indicate that the drys are far from fighting a losing battle.

Scoring the board of supervisors for action in calling a plebiscite, the Rev. Mr. Hicks declared it would not do much good to vote Santa Ana dry if the supervisors permitted saloons to be established on North and South Main streets and on East and West Fifth streets just outside of the city limits. He gave this as the reason for forming the organization which will work in the unincorporated areas of the county.

Organization Plans. Following considerable discussion it was decided to appoint one member of a county-wide committee from each community to meet with the Law Enforcement League Monday afternoon in the First Methodist church here to perfect the county organization.

Arthur L. Corey of Buena Park was named chairman of the county committee. He met briefly with representatives of Santa Ana, La Habra, Garden Grove, Placentia, Wintersburg, Anaheim, Buena Park and Costa Mesa to discuss plans for the Monday meeting. It was brought out at the meeting that movements to organize groups to fight the return of liquor in Orange county have been started in many communities in the county. These communities will be contacted and taken into the general organization to make possible a thorough canvass of voters and to carry on educational work over the entire county.

HANDBILL DISTRIBUTOR FINED

Changing his plea from not guilty to guilty, M. M. Johnston, Santa Ana man, was fined $25 by Judge J. G. Mitchell in the police court this morning on a charge of violating a city ordinance regulating the distribution of hand bills and circulars. Johnston paid the fine.

He was arrested by Santa Ana officers late last week for distributing advertising circulars for a local market concern in violation of the ordinance. He was the fifth man arrested recently on the same charge.

Major Samuel H. M. Byers, 95, who wrote the words to "Sherman's March to the Sea" and who was declared to be the last surviving member of the staff that accompanied General Sherman on his famous Civil war expedition, died here of pneumonia yesterday. His "Sherman's March to the Sea" better known as "Marching Through Georgia," was written while he was a prisoner in Columbia, S. C., after he was captured by the Confederates at the battle of Chattanooga.

His work was smuggled through the lines and later was set to music by J. O. Rockwell.

AIR TROPHY IS AWARDED TO GLENN MARTIN

The amazing career of Glenn Martin, a Santa Ana boy "who made good," was climaxed today by his receipt of one of aeronautics' most important awards, The Collier Trophy, annually presented to the outstanding contributor to the progress of aviation.

Describing him as the holder of more "first places" in aviation than any other man, Santa Ana's Martin, now an internationally famed airplane manufacturer with headquarters at Baltimore, is the subject of a feature article in the current issue of Collier's, written by W. B. Courtney and titled, "Glenn, the Bomb Boy."

Santa Ana is a background for much of the story which in detail explains how Martin, encouraged by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Martin of this city, rented an abandoned church here for $12 a month, tacked newspapers over the windows so the neighbors couldn't watch him, and designed and built his first plane.

Coming Home Soon

Incidentally, Martin's father-to-be revealed that his millionaire son, now completing the manufacture of a series of Martin Bombers for the U. S. government, will arrive in Santa Ana for a month's vacation late in June. Martin sr. lives at 810 Minter street. The new bombers are said to generate a speed of more than 200 miles an hour.

Courtney's story graphically describes how Martin built his first flying machine, "working at night, after he had put in a full day at his garage, while his mother held a kerosene lamp for him. There was no lighting available in the moldy building."

The article continues:

Recalls First Flight

"The plane was finished—it was the fruit of his long list of gliders. He mounted a 14-horsepower Ford automobile motor in it, and then on a day in 1908—when he was just past 20—he wheeled it to a meadow on the farm of James Irvine, at the south end of Main street, in Santa Ana. Hundreds of people gathered, but the youngster recalls that as he took his seat on the front edge of the wing and secured his strap with trembling hands he could see only his mother. He flew."

"The garage saw him no more. Glenn Martin, airplane manufacturer, was born."

By 1913, Courtney declared, Martin had operating in Santa Ana the largest aircraft manufacturing plant in the world. The story reveals how Martin was refused financial aid by Santa Ana bankers, with the 20-year-old pilot, eyes swollen shut and a tooth missing from a recent crash, storming out of the financial institution with "the laughter of the banker cracking around his ears."

The tale then recounts Martin's rise from barnstorming stunt flyer to his present position as one of the world's greatest figures in aviation.

CONTRACTOR FILES $30,396 CLAIM AGAINST COUNTY; SAYS GRAVEL AGREEMENT NOT KEPT

The dilemma confronting the board of supervisors over the contract with L. D. Reynolds to furnish the county with gravel has developed a new horn through filing of a demand on behalf of Reynolds demanding of the county $30,396.07 for alleged failure to comply with the contract.

MANAGER

Carl Harrison, below, has been named manager of Barnett's Bootery, 209 West Fourth street, which is just opening in Santa Ana. He has been connected with Newcomb's Shoe store here of the past nine years.

BOY PLAYING WITH MATCHES STARTS BLAZE

Two fires were reported in Santa Ana during the past 24 hours, one of them causing considerable damage to a house.

A general fire alarm was sounded at 4:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a fire of alleged incendiary origin was reported at 1058-1-2 West Third street by John Bursch, who lives at that address.

According to reports from the fire department, the fire which started at the house and also at an outbuilding, was caused by a eight-year-old boy who set fire to some dry palm branches with matches. The boy was apprehended and is being held for questioning. It was reported. The fire loss on the house was estimated at $450.

Another fire was reported at 8:53 o'clock this morning when oil from a coal oil stove at 902 South Broadway caught fire in a building in the rear of the above address at property occupied by A. A. McDougal. No damage was caused by the fire.

Several days ago Graham Brothers filed two suits one naming the supervisors, county auditor and treasurer and purchasing agent and demanding return to the county of $10,737.66 paid Reynolds on the contracts and, in the second suit demanding cancellation of the contract and permanent injunctions restraining payment of further sums to Reynolds under the contract.

Shortly before noon today Attorney L. W. Blodgett, representing Reynolds filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs a demand for damages addressed to the county of Orange and the board of supervisors. Backs said that the demand probably will be presented to the board Monday when that body holds its regular meeting. The board will meet this week on Monday because of Tuesday, the regular meeting date, being a legal holiday.

Says Bond Posted

In the demand filed this morning Reynolds alleges that on June 14, 1932, the board of supervisors entered into a contract with him under which he was to furnish and haul all cementitious gravel used on county highways for one year.

Reynolds alleges that after he had been awarded the contract he was required to post a bond of $10,000 to insure that he would be ready to serve the county and furnish gravel at an agreed price. After requiring him to maintain adequate equipment at all times for that purpose, he alleges, the county "willfully and maliciously failed, neglected and refused to comply."

He charged that, contrary to the agreement with him the county purchased gravel for use on public highways from others and at times when he was able to provide such material and awarded contracts to others for hauling of such gravel. He listed 13 jobs on which the contract has been violated, according to his allegation.

Items Claim

Reynolds, in his demand, alleged that because of this breach of contract he has been unable to use his equipment and was deprived of the ordinary profits and benefits he would have made had the contract been lived up to.

Of the $30,396.07 demanded as damages from the county Reynolds lists $10,555.54 which he claims was lost to him through county purchases of gravel from others and $19,840.53 lost by permitting others to haul gravel for county jobs.

In their suits filed against the county and officials this week Graham Brothers attacked the contract awarded Reynolds on the grounds that it was awarded without calling for bids and that Reynolds had not been required to post a bond.

LOBBYISTS ARE HELD NUISANCE BY LEGISLATOR

Touching on matters relative to the organization of the California legislature, particularly the senate, Senator Nelson T. Edwards, of Orange, addressed members of Alpha Kappa Zeta, Junior college social science seminar, when they met last night in the home of the advisor, L. L. Beeman, 210 French street.

Edwards explained the system used in the introduction of bills by committees into both houses, the system of trading by lobbyists, whom, he said, were a nuisance, the senate was forced to pass measures to keep them off the floor. He stated that it is impossible for any member of the legislature to read half of the bills that are introduced, especially towards the end of the session and that the governor when the bills are rushed to him does not know what he is signing. The only thing to be done under the circumstances, he said, is to take the word of the committee responsible for the bill. Election of officers and initiation of new members were held following the address as well as an informal discussion. John Wells was elected president and his officers will be comprised of Erhardt Rhonsholt, vice-president and

Florence Warner, secretary-treasurer. New members are Paul Hanson, Charles Webb, Elizabeth Lawson, Margaret Smart, Florence Warner, Erhardt Rhonsholt, Bernard Dillon and Bruce Chalmers. Other members present were Elizabeth Drysdale, Wilton Hilliard, Eileen McCollum, Richard Stafford, Claude Brown, Morris Singer, John Wells, Ray Forrester and L. L. Beeman, advisor.

MAKE CHANGES IN SWIM PERIODS AT Y

On account of the increasing attendance of boys at the Y. M. C. A. it has been found necessary to make certain changes in their schedule of health education, according to Boys' Secretary D. H. Tibbels.

Beginning next Monday, boys under 12 years of age will have their gymnasium work on Monday and Wednesday afternoons at 3:30, with swimming immediately afterward. Boys of 12 and over will have gymnasium on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 3:30, with swimming immediately after.

Boys who do not come in these gymnasium classes may swim at 3:45 each afternoon. That is, older boys will swim at 3:45 on Monday and Wednesday, without the gymnasium work, and younger boys may swim on Tuesday and Thursday at 3:45, without going to gymnasium. This opens the swimming pool to the boys on four afternoons a week, and on Saturday mornings, and gives each group two gymnasium periods a week in addition.

Shall Beer Be Legalized In Santa Ana

The first prize winner in the Santa Ana Dry association essay contest on the above subject appears below. The author was presented a $10 cash prize last night.

BY E. BEAMER

This question might be viewed from many angles, yet I shall consider it from just three sides in this discussion.

First, from the standpoint of loyalty and patriotism. Beverages containing four per cent alcohol are intoxicating; hence, their sale is in direct violation of the constitution, and if I vote to legalize their sale, I am violating my obligation of citizenship, which binds me to "uphold and sustain the constitution of the United States" and obey its laws. Some folks consider themselves patriotic when they salute the flag of our country. I love it because it is the emblem of the freedom which we enjoy under our constitution, which is the foundation of our form of government, and those who seek to nullify the constitution are trampling the flag in the dust and starting on the road that leads to anarchy.

Again, if we legalize the sale of beer in Santa Ana, we are opening the doors for the return of the "Old Saloon" with its train of evils. Naturally, the first object of the brewers is to make money, they care nothing for the wrecked lives, or ruined homes, the inevitable result of their business, but will make it appear to be perfectly innocent and harmless, very alluring and such fun for the youngsters, until the habit is formed, which calls for ever increasing amounts of alcohol, then will come the demand for stronger drinks, and the confirmed drunkard is the finished product. Nor is the making of drunkards the only evil that follows the saloon, for wherever it goes it is followed by criminals, gamblers, prostitution and all forms of vice and immorality. Shall we subject our youth and citizenship to all of these demoralizing influences, just to be with the crowd?

Third, I am opposed to beer from the standpoint of the economic welfare of Santa Ana. The money spent for beer can not be spent for beans, shoes, radios or any other needs or comforts. Take for example, the dairy industry, one of the leading industries of Orange county which centers in Santa Ana. If beer is sold in restaurants and soda fountains, is it not plain to be seen that it comes in direct competition with the sale of milk and ice cream, thus working an injury to not only the milk producer on the ranch but the job of every employee of the creameries is less secure.

Let all who have the welfare of Santa Ana, and especially of her young people, at heart, vote to continue the good name and reputation we have long enjoyed. Let other towns invite the criminal and immoral classes, along with the saloon; while Santa Ana invites, expects and will surely get that class of citizens who appreciate the higher ideals of morality and citizenship.

Western Star In New Role at State

Discarding the trusty six-shooters which have stood him in such good stead during his entire western career, Bob Steele comes to the screen of the State theater with his fists as his only weapons in "The Fighting Champ," scheduled for a run of two days starting today.

The star still retains the western locale of his former triumphs, however, appearing this time as the hard-hitting young ranch foreman, who punches his way into a job and into the doubtful opportunity of meeting a barnstorming fight champion. His fist-cuffs do not stop with the big bout, however, as Steele fights his way through the smashing finish to win the heart and hand of the pretty sister of the ranch-owner who first hired him.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD PLANS DRASTIC CUTS

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson declared at a conference last night of school officials, educators and members of the Orange County Tax Research bureau, that drastic economies are being planned by the city school system for next year in order to reduce the budget.

The school board, he said, knows that reductions must be made and has already figured a saving of approximately $20,000 in salaries through discontinuance of services formerly rendered. He pointed out that five supervisors have been eliminated along with 12 teachers.

Present at the meeting were H. G. Nelson, principal of the Julia Lathrop Junior High school; D. K. Hammond, principal of the high school and president of the Junior college; McKee Fisk, junior college dean; George Newcom, business manager for the board of education; George Wells and M. B. Youel, school board members; George A. Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce; Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education in the schools; Miss Mary Andrews, principal of McKinley school; Miss Isabel Lindsay, president of the City Teachers' League; and Henderson.

Wallace, representing the Tax Research bureau, said that in his opinion an increase in the 1933-

34 city school tax rate appears inevitable. He pointed to the drop in assessed valuations and the use of $90,000 bond funds by the elementary district last year, which would not be available again this year, as reasons for his belief. Wallace said he appeared at the conference for the purpose of learning the possibility of further economies in school operation. He further said that Santa Ana schools are being operated at the lowest per capita cost in the county.

THREE BURGLARIES REPORTED TO POLICE

Three burglaries in Orange county were reported today to officers.

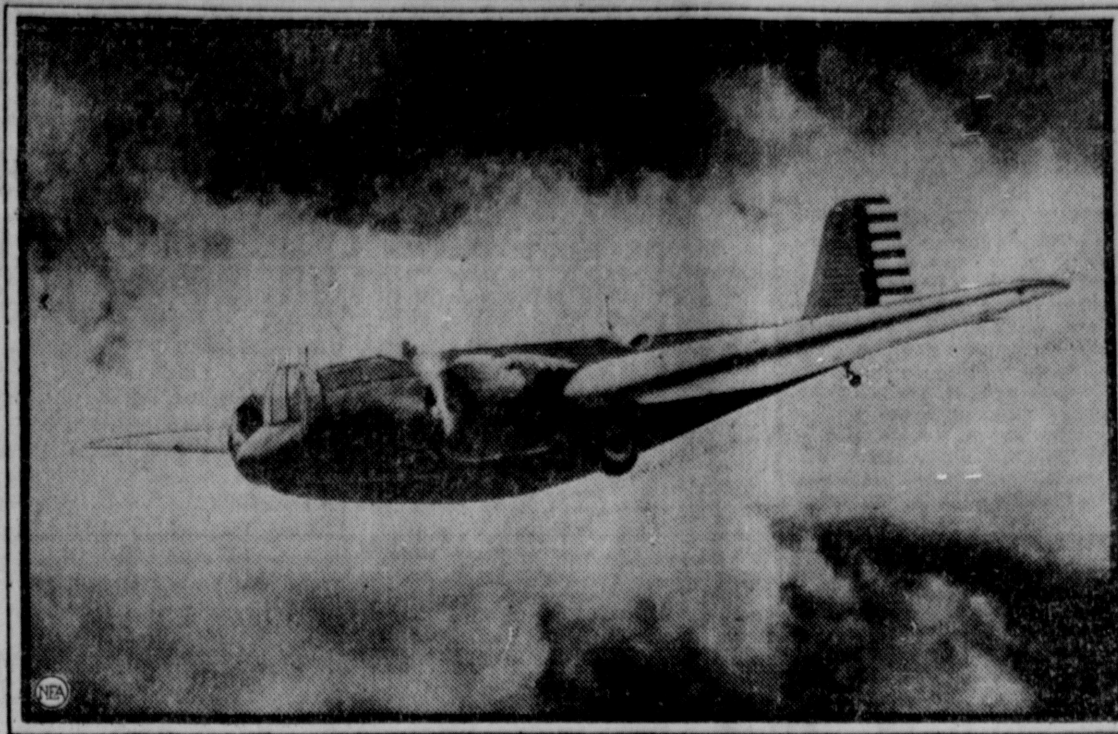

Mrs. M. Fawcett, 611 North Parton street, reported to Santa Ana police that during the past week someone broke into an apartment at the above address and stole rings, a watch and other jewelry valued at $50.

Theft of a razor strap and razor valued at $10 was reported to police by Milton Peterson, 408 East Fourth St., who said a burglar last night pushed a key out of a rear door of the building and entered with a pass key. The cash register in the barber shop which was burglarized was opened but it contained no money.

William Hillman, of the Jones ranch, El Modena, reported the theft of bee equipment from the ranch to the sheriff's office. The equipment stolen was valued at $47.

ARMY'S NEW MYSTERY BOMBER IN FLIGHT

High in the clouds, landing gear retracted and two motors driving it along at nearly 200 miles an hour, the new U. S. army "mystery bomber," or B-10 is shown as it flew in a test flight over Wright Field, Dayton, O. The craft has a wing span of 62 feet, a bomb capacity of 2000 pounds, and carries a front gunner in an enclosed glass turret. It is constructed entirely of metal.

CREDIT GROUP ORGANIZES TO HELP FARMERS

Faced with the problem of many persons in Orange county being in financial distress, the Rural Credits committee of Orange county met here last night and formed two sub-committees to hasten the work of securing from the federal government a fair valuation of Orange county land. This is necessary, according to C. A. Palmer, chairman of the committee, to enable Orange county farmers to take advantage of the emergency rural credits legislation.

The first subcommittee will handle all phases concerning water problems which may have to be presented to federal authorities. O. E. Steward, chairman of the water conservation committee of the Farm Bureau, was named chairman of the group. Harold E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor and official representative of the University of California and the United States Department of Agriculture in the county will act as secretary.

Other members of the subcommittee are Dr. D. D. Wayne, soil and water chemist, and manager of the Associated Laboratory at Anaheim; M. N. Thompson, Orange county flood control engineer; C. R. Browning, engineer for the Irvine company; Walter Humphreys, engineer for the oil companies Waste Water Disposal company; J. E. Lewis, engineer for the Yorba Linda Water company; Henry Burdorf, rancher and director of the Anaheim Union Water company; E. E. Campbell, rancher, member S. A. V. I. company; W. C. Mauerhan, Katella rancher; C. E. Crumrine, rancher and manager of the Capistrano County Water district; J. A. Murdy, rancher Smeltzer district; J. T. Knudson, La Habra rancher.

The second subcommittee will be known as the contact committee and will be the group to negotiate with Federal authorities as to the maximum loans they will make per acre, rules and regulations and handle all contacts with federal authorities on these problems.

Members of this committee are: C. A. Palmer, chairman, R. D. Flaherty, secretary, J. A. Smiley, West Orange, LeRoy E. Lyon, member of the Board of Supervisors; B. L. Chandler, Anaheim; F. E. Farnsworth, Santa Ana; Paul Witmer, mayor of Santa Ana; Bruce McDaniel, Redlands and A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana.

Following the meeting Palmer said:

"For many years, we enjoyed not only a good return on our agricultural products produced in Orange county; but, we enjoyed the general prosperity which came to all Southern California, due to rapid growth of population and general development of this area. During that period we did not need the services of the Federal Land Bank and other phases of federal rural credits. Consequently rules and regulations for making federal farm loans are based upon the land values and general conditions pertaining to general farm conditions. We now find ourselves in the position of having to demonstrate to the federal authorities that these rules and regulations should be changed, and that if we can substantiate our land values of $2500 per acre that we should have the same consideration with respect to making a practical loan on that valuation as a farming territory that can only substantiate a land value of $100 or $200 per acre."

Flames Destroy Five-Room House

A five-room frame house located on Berrydale avenue was destroyed by fire at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The owner, Mrs. Clara Crow, was not at home, the flames being discovered by an employee of the Southern Counties Gas company.

The Garden Grove fire department under Chief E. J. Tobias responded, being handicapped by lack of water at the Crow home. The garage and half of the furniture were saved.

Local Briefs

Funeral services for William A. Packard, past commander of the Sedgwick post, G. A. R., Santa Ana, are to be held tomorrow at Patriotic hall, Los Angeles, at 2 p. m. It has been announced. Mr. Packard passed away in that city Wednesday.

INSURANCE MEN TO CONVENE AT LAGUNA BEACH

Interesting problems dealing with fire insurance will be discussed at the convention of the California State Association of County Mutual Fire Insurance companies to be held at Laguna Beach, June 14, 15 and 16. It was announced today by W. Dean Johnston, secretary-manager of the Orange County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company, with headquarters in Santa Ana.

The Orange county unit of the association, ranking as second in size, volume of business, and assets in the state, will act as host to the visiting insurance men, it was added.

W. G. Wild, of Ventura, state president, will preside over the convention doings, which, in addition to business sessions, will include an entertainment program.

"BUY A POPPY" IS SLOGAN FOR S. A. TOMORROW

Tomorrow America will pay honor to the men who gave their lives on the battlefields of France when the security of the nation was threatened.

Millions of Americans in every section of the country will wear bright red poppies to show that they have not forgotten the sacrifices made some 15 years ago.

Here in Santa Ana, as well as in other Orange county communities, members of the auxiliaries of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will distribute memorial poppies in all parts of the city.

Mrs. Juanita Cozad, chairman, Mrs. Charles Camm and Mrs. G. O. Hendrickson have charge of the V. F. W. sales, while the Legion auxiliary group is under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Swarthout.

Proceeds of the sale, it was pointed out, will be devoted to relief work among veterans and their dependents, the need of which this year has been accentuated by unemployment and other causes.

A large number of volunteer workers, including Gold Star mothers and school girls, have volunteered their services for the undertaking, and will take the streets early tomorrow morning.

The poppies have been made by disabled World war veterans working under supervision of the auxiliaries. The employment thus given these men have helped them to provide food and shelter for their families during the present depression, it was explained.

No set price is established for the blossoms and persons accepting them may pay whatever they can.

WALKS ABOUT WITH BRAIN CONCUSSION

A man who suffered concussion of the brain in an automobile accident and who went about his business for a day before reporting the matter, was in the Orange county general hospital today for treatment.

Albert Solis, 22, of Delhi, told hospital attaches that a car he was riding in had turned over near Irvine day before yesterday but he had not realized he was hurt. The injury is not believed to be serious.

No report of the accident has been filed at police headquarters or at the California Highway patrol office.

TAXES BEING PAID

ANAHEIM, May 26.—With the closing date for payment of city taxes on June 26, Miss Etta Williams, of the tax department, stated today that $83,000 has already been paid. The total amount to be paid is $103,000 leaving a deficit, at the present time, of $20,000.

PLAN SPECIAL SERVICES FOR CHURCH SUNDAY

ORANGE, May 26.—Three members of Gordon Granger post of the G. A. R. will be present at the Memorial services to be conducted Sunday morning at the First Christian church. Members of the post are to be accorded special seats of honor at a ceremony which was originated in honor of the veterans of the Civil war, according to the Rev. Frank H. Minck, pastor of the church.

The pastor has chosen as his sermon topic, "For God, Home and Country." Nelson Kogler is to be the trumpeter and the choir is to sing, "Flags and Flowers." In the evening the pastor will speak from the topic, "The Faith Behind a Lie," and the Men's chorus will sing.

Circle Members Sew For Needy

ORANGE, May 26.—The Friendly circle of the Mennonite church met in the home of Mrs. J. M. Frieden on South Batavia street Tuesday evening. Devotions were led by Mrs. A. Campbell. The remainder of the time was spent in sewing for welfare work.

Late in the evening strawberry shortcake topped with whipped cream and coffee were served to the following: Mrs. Roy Pentecest, Mrs. Thelma Hauworth, of Santa Ana; Mrs. R. J. Killingsbeck, Mrs. Dora Wells, Mrs. A. Campbell, of Garden Grove; Mrs. F. Rhode, Mrs. Wooten, Mrs. Harry Lenderman, Mrs. Ruth Skiles, Mrs. Alice Waite, Mrs. John Dams, Mrs. Hazel Pearson, Mrs. Wilma Campbell, Mrs. Mina Kenworthy, Miss Neva Ward, Mrs. Dorothy Pentecest and Mrs. J. Club In Mother And Son Banquet

ORANGE, May 26.—The Highway Tea gardens were the setting for a mother and son banquet for the Methodist Pathfinders' club Wednesday evening. The toast to the mothers was given by Cary Watson and the response was by Mrs. E. H. Jackson. Robert Jackson, president, was in charge and later in the evening played a trombone solo.

Talks were given by Harold Gilton, club leader, and by J. B. Wilbur, Y. M. C. A. secretary. Ed Stanley played piano solos and Harold Gilton sang solos. Howard Davis gave a vocal solo, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Davis. Thirty-six were present.

The group met at the "Y" headquarters and went together to the tea gardens. Tables were especially lovely with early summer flowers. Boys of the club are high school sophomores.

seriously ill at St. Joseph's hospital, is expected to be well enough to return to her home here shortly.

Miss Louane Leech, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leech, of West Chapman avenue, will arrive home Saturday for a week end visit with her parents, who are to meet her in Los Angeles. Miss Leech is city librarian at Petaluma.

HUMOROUS TALK IS GIVEN FOR SERVICE CLUB

ORANGE, May 26.—"The Rise and Fall of a Young Business Man" was the subject for a humorous talk given at the meeting of the Rotary club by L. D. Blodgett, manager of the commercial department of the Richfield company's Los Angeles offices. In the course of his address, Blodgett declared that discernment and friendliness are the two most important characteristics on which success depends.

The speaker said that he had begun his career in a bank and after six months had become business manager for the Wortham Carnival company, which was just organized. Wortham, the speaker said, was the man who divorced the sideshow from the circus and who originated the carnival to be sold to lodges and organizations.

An ascension in a balloon to a height of 4000 feet when the regular balloonist became drunk, was an interesting experience related by Blodgett in a dramatic manner. In closing the speaker declared that he believed the country is on an upward trend. He was accompanied by Cy Smith of Los Angeles.

A guest was George W. Furr, of Azusa. Roy Willis presided and George Gilmore was program chairman. Installation of new officers of the club will take place the latter part of June.

Program Held By School Students

ORANGE, May 26.—Their last meeting of the year was held this week by members of Die Froehlichen of Orange Union High school, who met in Miss Phyllis Lucy Keyes' room at school for a variety program arranged by Clara Meyer, chairman.

Marie Fitcher played a piano solo and accompanied Nelson Kogler and Clara Fitcher in German songs. Gloria Sohre played "Neopolitan Nights," a violin solo. Velma Kuechel gave a monologue; Ellen Peters, Lydia Mueller and Clarence Vogt presented a short German play; Louane Becher gave a German reading.

Clarence Vogt and Sirena Mufelman won first and second prizes in a contest.

Refreshments of upside down cake were served to conclude the meeting.

Many a man out of work has taken to chick, dog and canary raising and the market to sell these is greater than ever if you go about it in the right way, and that way is to SELL through the inexpensive little For Sale Want Ads in this paper.

Sleep Delayed By Polecat, Rats, Coyote

SILVERADO, May 26.—Forest Ranger George Wallace is the proud possessor of a real house this year instead of the usual army tent. Packrats, however, disputed his right of occupancy. He killed two. Then a polecat smelled fresh rat meat and came to investigate. A coyote got a tantalizing whiff that attracted him and followed his nose. Wallace used his gun effectively and finally got to sleep in the wee sma' hours.

MRS. FERRIN IS RE-ELECTED AS HEAD OF CLASS

ORANGE, May 26.—Bertha Epley Guild members of the First Christian church re-elected Mrs. Clayton Ferrin as president of the organization when they met this week for a monthly session. Mrs. Goldie Robinson was re-elected vice president, to serve with Mrs. Grace Sisson and Mrs. Everett Koger, new secretary and treasurer.

One of a series of programs on "Harvest Time in China," with "Changed Homes" as the topic for the evening, was given under the direction of Mrs. B. J. Fletcher, leader of group two of the guild. Following devotionals by Mrs. Clara Vestal, papers on China were read by Mrs. Winter, Mrs. Ross Harlan, Miss Thelma Dugan and Miss Jennie Conner. Mrs. Conner also read a letter of interest from a missionary in China.

Mrs. L. F. Finley and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Finley, concluded the program with a vocal duet, "Home Sweet Home." Light refreshments were served during the social hour which followed.

The business session was in charge of Mrs. Ross Harlan in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ferrin.

High School Students In Recital Soon

ORANGE, May 26.—Voice and piano students of the Orange union high school music department will be presented in a recital Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the third floor auditorium of the school.

Voice class students participating will be Ruby Armstrong, Charles Armstrong, Elizabeth Kindrick, Evelyn Bryant, Weldon Dillingham, Jean Hasty, Helen Mollica, Wilma Stanfield, Mildred Moore, Elvia Worden, Roland Drinkgern, David Wettlin, Sabra Batchelor, Alice Compton, Mary Moore.

Piano students who will take part include Barbara Hallman, Barbara Sutherland, Josephine Green, Dorothy Flintman, Helen Timme, Helen Price, Ernest Eckhoff, Ben Hager, Henrietta Campbell, Barbara Knuth, Jeanie Winget, Margaret Kreidt, Roberta Skeld, Lora Lee McCall, Evelyn Reitz and Alice Anthony.

Girl Scouts At Camp In August

ORANGE, May 26.—Orange Girl Scouts planning to spend the week of August 2 at Camp Rokill are to make reservations with Miss Lavina Compton, local director of girls' work, as soon as possible, it was announced today.

It is hoped that reservations will be completed by the time school is closed this summer. Registration requires that each girl deposit a small percentage of the $7 cost for attending camp for seven days. This sum includes transportation.

Santa Ana Girl Scouts are to be in camp at the same time, with Mrs. R. R. Russick acting as director. Miss Compton will have charge of pioneering work. About 50 girls from Orange, Santa Ana and Tustin are expected to take part in camp life from August 2 to 9.

TO REMODEL BUILDING

ORANGE, May 26.—The corner rooms of the Jern building on West Chapman and Olive street are to be occupied by Dr. Paul Rumph, Orange physician, who now has offices at 207 West Chapman. Work on remodeling the rooms into offices will begin Monday morning.

STUDENT BODY ELECTION SET FOR JUNE 1ST

ORANGE, May 26.—With election of next year's student body officers scheduled for June 1, introduction of candidates for the various offices took place this week at an Orange Union High school assembly.

Harper Housley, president, introduced the candidates including Clifford Butler, Howard Davis, Charles Goodwin and Woodrow Payne, for president.

Other candidates are Vernon Mansur, Bob Neece and Willard Wright, vice president; Dorothy Cooke and Helen Volberding, secretary-treasurer; Betty Bergan, Dorothy Mortland and Malinda Walker, song leader; Bobby Clark, yell leader.

Calvin Crawford proposed a number of amendments to the student body constitution. Primary elections are scheduled for Monday, with the finals and the vote on the amendments to be held June 1.

CEREMONY HELD BY ROYAL NEIGHBORS

ORANGE, May 26.—A memorial service was held at the I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday when members of the Royal Neighbors lodge had arranged an impressive program for this yearly event. The memorial service of the lodge was conducted by the oracle, Mrs. Hart Pennington, and the solo was sung by Mrs. Carl Pister, who was accompanied by Mrs. Ella Kilgore.

The two little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Linnert, Ellen and Yvonne, were selected to carry the beautiful wreaths used in the ceremony and which were hung on a white cross, partially covered with green fern.

The hall was beautifully decorated with baskets and bouquets of flowers. The next meeting of the organization will be held June 13 with a covered dish luncheon as noon.

Class Members Luncheon Guests

ORANGE, May 26.—Whatever class members of the First Presbyterian church were entertained Thursday afternoon in the home of their president, Mrs. D. F. Campbell, South Cambridge street. The hostess group was composed of Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Louis Shoemaker and Mrs. Alice Huff, all having birthdays in May.

Tables had been placed both outdoors and in for a covered dish luncheon served cafeteria style. Sweet peas and roses decked the home for the occasion. An informal program of musical numbers and readings was given by various members.

Those sharing the hospitality of the hostess trio were Mesdames Sadie Hangar, Martha Rapp, Carlotta Baker, Annie Crawford, Minnie Thompson, Florence Beale, Jennie Cook, Ellen Heikes, Catherine Rudolph, Margaret Wheeler, Annie Bennett, Melissa Johnson, Jennie McPherson, Henrietta Reep, Eva Adams, Louise Shores, Hulda Field, Jane Skuse, Hannah Gardner, Sarah Taber, Ida Davis, Sue Brownlee, Mamie Settle and the Misses Bell Dutton and Bell Handley.

Members having birthdays in June will be hostesses at the next meeting.

NEW OFFICERS OF CLASS SELECTED

ORANGE, May 26.—Officers to serve for the coming year were elected this week at a meeting of the Friendly Hand class in the lower auditorium of the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Earl Hobbs was chosen as class president and Mrs. LeRoy Valentine as secretary and Mrs. Charles Goode, treasurer.

Tables to the covered dish dinner which preceded were decked with early summer blossoms. Mrs. Gussie White, of Long Beach, class teacher, was present for the event. An orchestra organized informally played a number of selections after several impromptu talks. The orchestra included Ensley Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Carpenter, Alden Davis, Verne Estes, Mrs. Ruby Yaeger and Mrs. Carl Pister. About 65 were present.

GARDEN PARTY IS ENJOYED BY CHURCH CLASS

ORANGE, May 26.—More than 600 children's garments which have been made during the past few months by the Westminster class of the First Presbyterian church were on display Thursday afternoon at a garden party given by members and friends, with Mrs. W. C. Ahlman as hostess at her home on North Harwood street.

The garments, which were attractively displayed in the garden, are all ready to be sent to their future owners, children in the leper colonies of India. Mrs. Ahlman, chairman of the sewing committee of the class, had arranged the exhibition.

During the afternoon, tea was served from a gaily appointed table, over which presided Mrs. Clyde Watson and Mrs. H. S. Taylor.

Those present, other than the hostess, Mrs. Ahlman, were Mesdames R. B. McAulay, H. M. Gullick, C. W. Coffey, W. H. Lowry, A. Trapp, A. Linnartz, Parker Robertson, W. S. Wallace, M. L. Pearson, Ethel Niquette, H. S. Taylor, C. O. Powell, Arthur Bauer, Fred Wells, Henry Meier, Alvin Clifford, Anna Dille.

Jerome Westfall, John Hirst, Sarah J. Dutton, E. N. Turner, Owen Smith, Clyde Watson, B. Talbert, Jane Welsh, C. B. Harper, Jerry Youngs, O. A. Linnert, J. T. McInnis, Henry Campbell, Earl Campbell, B. D. Stanley, E. H. Smith, W. J. Sutherland, LeRoy Bell, J. W. Cummings, F. H. INVESTIGATION

The inside fight between the Morgans and the Rockefeller's is getting warmer every minute. This public frying of the Morgans before the Senate investigators has only heated up the contestants.

While J. P. Morgan was confessing his sins to the Committee in public some of his friends were nudging Committee members and asking significantly when the Committee was going to go into Mr. Rockefeller's Chase Security company.

You could find out without very much trouble that the investigators are armed with some data concerning Chase. Most of it dates back before the Rockefeller's cleaned house there, but publication of it will do them no good.

The probable results of this inside war are beginning to become very clear.

The Morgans are going to be forced to change their business methods. Legislation is almost certain to pass within the coming year. It will compel them to compete with commercial banks on an equal footing or else get out of that phase of the financial industry. Not much longer will they be permitted to operate their bank as a private partnership answerable to nobody.

Almost equally certain is the prospect that Mr. Rockefeller's Chase National Bank will be compelled by legislation to divorce its security affiliate and confine itself to the commercial banking business.

Both sides are putting up some were discussed, in which connection the new president urged all executives of local units to attend.

show of resistance. Secretly they are reconciled to the inevitable. The New Deal is here.

Most of the Senatorial investigators handled Mr. Morgan with kid gloves while he was on the stand. An exception was Senator Couzens. Another was the Committee inquirer Ferdinand Pecora. They kept the inquiry from degenerating into a wrist-slapping affair.

Morgan secretly enjoyed it. When Pecora was flying at him warmly, he whispered to a friend on the side of his mouth: "You know, I like this Pecora." Again after reading a long list of names he turned to his counsel, John W. Davis and said: "Look, I did all that without my glasses."

He was almost too polite, thanking his examiners at the slightest opportunity.

If he had anything to hide, he certainly did not act like it.

The Morgans did not fear exposure of illegal business activity or excessive profits because they were guilty of neither. They did fear exposure of their LOSSES.

Mr. Morgan does not care what the milkman in Omaha thinks about him or his business. He is not running for public office. He does not care much about the opinion of so-called big men in Wall Street. He makes a living by making them believe he runs the biggest and best bank in the world.

That is why it hurt to confess he had paid no income taxes lately. He knew they would wink at each other and say: "He's not such a big shot after all."

A school child would hardly have been fooled by Morgan's contention that his house had no control over the 187 companies on which his partners serve as directors. Most of the companies owe the Morgans money. All have financial dealings with the Big House. They want to stay as close to it as they can.

In every broker's office throughout the world these companies are spoken of as "Morgan companies." People buy stock in them because they are connected.

That was probably the worst break Morgan made.

RAILS

The railroads have started secretly to carry out some of the ideas of the railroad legislation before it is passed.

The experts who wrote the original Prince plan have been quietly installed as an assistant to Interstate Commerce Commissioner Eastman. He is working out the scheme to eliminate duplications of terminal facilities and such things.

When the bill passes and Eastman becomes the new Coordinator they will be all ready to go.

SUGAR

Secret negotiations with Cuba have begun on the sugar and other questions. Nothing definite is expected from them until after Congress authorizes Mr. Roosevelt to dicker on tariffs.

That is also supposed to be what is holding back the sugar report from the Tariff Commission. It is in final form and ready any time Mr. Roosevelt asks for it.

The whisper inside is that it is still based on the allotment scheme.

MORGAN

There was consternation in the telegraph room at the Morgan investigation when the witness said he had paid no income tax this year and last.

A $50 a week telegraph operator went berserk while sending the news over the wire. He kept screaming:

"I paid $20 income tax and he pays nothing."

NOTES

When the Jap delegate K. Ishii asked a local hotel for a room to hold his press conference they gave him the CHINESE room, not knowing the two nations were at war.

Even the strong progressive Senator Costigan private-

A Ship Load of Autos—Now It's News

Two or three years ago this picture wouldn't have been news. But now, with automobile production leading the upturn of industry, this scene of Detroit's river front, taken on news significance. ly congratulated J. P. Morgan on his "admirable sense of good humor" on the witness stand. . . . Morgan partner Leffingwell made a move as though to climb over the table at Pecora when the latter declined to understand why the twenty-one million dollar loss was taken on the 1931 income tax return. . . . Morgan was prompted on the stand by numerous attorneys and partners but he seemed to know considerable about the business. . . . But he could not remember the corporations of which he is a director even with the list before him. . . . He kept insisting privately to his advisers that some of the companies had gone out of business or that he was not on their boards, but the advisers insisted he was. . . . He took their word for it.

LA HABRA SCHOOL TEACHERS GET 10 PER CENT SALARY CUT

LA HABRA, May 26.—A reduction of 10 per cent in teachers' salaries will be made by the La Habra grammar school board for the coming year and no allowance will be made for extra duty on the part of any teacher. The staff will also be cut down by two or three teachers, eliminating one department and possibly two.

Resignations have been received by the board from R. O. Wright, seventh grade class teacher and geography teacher; Mrs. Mollie Olsen, fourth grade teacher; Miss Harriet Sutton, kindergarten teacher; Frank L. Barrows, music instructor, and Albert Toy, of the shop department. The manual training department will be eliminated this year and there is a possibility that the music department under Mr. Barrows may be dropped. A part time basis for this department is being considered.

Teachers who have been re-elected for the coming year are Mrs. Margaret West, Mrs. Dora Linke, Mrs. Ann Marie Marsh, Mrs. Beulah Wagner, Mrs. Carrie Glazier, Miss Ruth Dickey, Miss Avis Elder, Miss Charlotte Hewitt and Miss Audrey Miller, for the Washington school, Joe D. Severns will remain as principal of this school.

At the Lincoln school, Mrs. Alta

Proud, principal; Mrs. Ethel Gard, Mrs. Lillian Milligan, Miss Leah Fulton and Miss Barbara Higgins have been re-elected.

At the Wilson or Mexican school S. L. Treff, principal; Mrs. Rose Stanford, Miss Mildred Anderson, Miss Blanche Fardine, and Miss Celia McCullough are returned.

Eight teachers in the above list are permanent teachers through the tenure law. They are Mrs. West, Mrs. Glazier, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Proud, Mrs. Gard, Mrs. Milligan, S. L. Treff and Professor Barrows.

La Habra Takes Over Water Company's System Today

FINAL DETAILS CLEARED UP BY CITY OFFICIALS

LA HABRA, May 26.—Final papers were completed and delivered yesterday in the sale of the American States Water Service company's holdings in La Habra to the city of La Habra.

The city will start at once reading meters for the June 1 billing and will collect all bills from now on. A Ford truck was purchased this week. John B. Sanks, city engineer, was appointed some weeks ago as water superintendent. He will be assisted in this work by Lucien E. Proud, former mayor, who is also deputy city clerk. Wilbur Evans, formerly with the water company, is now in the employ of the city and will remain until the city water department is fully organized.

Bonds for the purchase of a water system were voted a year ago, in April, and the deal for the purchase of the water company's holdings was started several months ago. Legal items from time to time have delayed completion of the deal until the present date. The original purchase price was $100,000, of which $50,000 was paid for the physical property of the water company, and $50,000 for the water stock of the La Habra Water company, which was held by the American States Water Service company.

BRIDE-ELECT H. B. SHOWER HONOREE

MIDWAY CITY, May 26.—In honor of Miss Helen Shirley, whose approaching marriage early in June to Perry McAdoo, of Santa Ana, was the incentive, a bridal shower was given by Miss Shirley's aunt, Mrs. James Proctor, of Huntington Beach recently.

The early part of the evening was devoted to cards, with high scores being made by Miss Margaret Beatty and Miss Ruth Souder. Score cards and decorations were in keeping with the bridal idea as was the angel food cake which was served on the dessert course after the bridge games and at which time the interesting packages presented by the friendly group to Miss Shirley were opened.

Present were Miss Mary Adams, Miss Ruth Souder, Santa Ana; Miss Margaret Beatty, Santa Ana; Miss Phyllis Fredricks, Miss Genevieve White, of U. C. L. A.; Miss Helen McAdoo, Santa Ana; Miss Dorothy Mae Proctor, Miss Eleanor Greer, Pomona; Miss Ethel Adair, San Diego; Miss Isabella Siracusa, Miss Marian Gleave, Mrs. Irene McAdoo, Santa Ana, mother of Mr. McAdoo; Mrs. W. D. Shirley, mother of the honoree; her grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Guesner, Midway City; aunts, Mrs. Antoinette Marshall, the hostess, Mrs. J. Proctor, and the honoree.

NEWPORT TO PLAY ANAHEIM SUNDAY

NEWPORT BEACH, May 26.—The Newport Beach baseball team will play the Anaheim Merchants next Sunday afternoon on the Costa Mesa diamond, according to an announcement by Harry Estus, manager of the local line. Last Sunday's game with Laguna Beach at that city was called off because of rain.

Ball League In First H. B. Games

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 26.—The Huntington Beach night ball league opened Wednesday night at the municipal ball park at First street and Ocean avenue. The opening program was a double-header, the first game running five innings. In the first game the O. C. Fields team defeated the Talbert team, 7 to 5. In the second game, which went nine innings, the Christian church team defeated Howard and Smith team, 11 to 7. The games were well played, providing plenty of excitement for a big crowd of enthusiastic fans.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

LA HABRA, May 26.—Arthur Orrell celebrated his 11th birthday Wednesday afternoon, when his mother, Mrs. P. M. Orrell, assisted by Mrs. C. A. Goodenough of Whittier, entertained a group of Paul's friends with a party. Prizes in a spelling bee game were won by Homer Graham, first; David Brewer, second; and Marvin Schneider, third. A prize hidden in the room was found by Leslie Robinson. Following the afternoon of games, ice cream and birthday cake were served. Guests were Charlie Douth, Bob O'Neil, David Brewer, Homer Graham, Marvin Schneider and Leslie Robinson.

H. B. Receives $10,000 For Work On Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 26.—The two applications for funds of the R. F. C. made by the city of Huntington Beach have been granted, according to announcement made yesterday by City Engineer Harry Overmeyer. The total amount obtained for the city is $10,000. A part of this money was granted for beach improvements and the second application was for improvements of streets, alleys and parks.

The money will be spent in Huntington Beach and will provide employment for home labor, although employment will be under the county welfare organization. The money is immediately available and the work provided for will start at once.

JUNIORS WIN FROM L. A. GAS SQUAD, 20-21

SEAL BEACH, May 26.—In one of the most exciting games of the local night baseball season, the Junior team nosed out the L. A. Gas and Electric company's Red Sox team by a score of 21 to 20 Wednesday night.

The Junior team, which is limited to boys under 18 years, has to date been undefeated, having won their games against older and more experienced players. Wednesday's game had the fans yelling from the first inning to the last; the score was kept nearly even throughout the game. With the score 20 to 17 against them at the beginning of the last inning, the Juniors managed to bring in four runs before the last out was made.

With the best hitters of the Red Sox at bat in the final half of the last inning, it looked as if the youngsters would be beaten. They managed, however, to hold the older men to a no-run inning. After two outs had been made and two hits and a walk had filled the bases, the final out was made when the batter struck a high fly that dropped into the mitt of the catcher. This win placed the Juniors at the head of the league.

The standings to date of the five teams which comprise the local league are:

| | W | L | Pct. |
|-----------|---|---|------|
| Juniors | 3 | 0 | 100 |
| Firemen | 2 | 1 | .667 |
| Fed Sox | 2 | 1 | .667 |
| White Sox | 0 | 2 | .000 |
| City Club | 0 | 2 | .000 |

Tonight the City club is scheduled to play the White Sox.

HUNTINGTON BEACH BROTHERS GET COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 26.—Friends of Dean and John Pryor are rejoicing over the honors in the form of college scholarships which have been awarded to the two brothers recently.

Dean Pryor, 19, one of the outstanding students in last year's graduating class from the Huntington Beach Union High school, attended the state agricultural college at Davis this year, receiving grades in his studies which made him a member of the scholarship society. Recently Dean was notified that he had been given one of the state scholarships to Davis for next year.

In addition to his high standing in scholastic achievement at Davis, Dean took an active part in all sports and student affairs, including the Dramatic club of which he was vice president, and treasurer of his fraternity, Alpha Gamma Rho. During the summer Dean is working under Dr. D. D. Wayne in the Association laboratories in Anaheim.

INSTALLATION HELD BY BEACH CITY P.-T. A.

NEWPORT BEACH, May 26.—New officers were installed by Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, past president of the Fourth District P.-T. A., at this week's meeting of the Newport Beach unit, Mrs. Albert Sparks succeeding herself as president of the body. Mrs. Blanche Preble, second vice president of the fourth district, assisted in the installation. Other officers taking duties were: vice president, Mrs. Irvin George Gordon; secretary, Mrs. E. S. Dixon; treasurer, Miss Marie Heffern; financial secretary, Mrs. S. L. Hoke; historian, Mrs. J. H. Logan; auditor, Mrs. R. H. Kennell; parliamentarian, Mrs. Edna Jones.

Mrs. Sparks gave a general resume of the year's work, calling special attention to the fact that the local organization has stressed child welfare during the year just past. Mrs. Gladys Barnett, local past president, reported on the annual rummage sale; Mrs. E. S. Dixon told of the pre-school physical examinations that were held this spring, stating that there had been 18 so far; and Mrs. Edna Jones, chairman of the ways and means committee, gave an interesting report. Mrs. N. E. Kincaid, statistician gave her report; Mrs. Bess Wells reported on the cafeteria activities; and Mrs. J. R. McClure, who has served as local treasurer, chairman of the adult education department and publicity chairman to the body for the past five years gave her last report before retiring. Miss Gertha Clark, the school nurse, told of the work that was done in her department in dental work, specially commending Dr. H. E. Stahler for the cooperation that he has given in the project. The costs of the work done were met by the local Ebbl and the P.-T. A.

As a part of the entertainment program the kindergarten room pupils, Miss Marie Heffern, teacher, gave several orchestra numbers and also several plays of harmony. Little Billy Kincaid read "Three Little Foxes." From Miss Branstetter's room, Jerry Rae Engleke gave two readings; and Lou Ann Acree, representing Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde's room, spoke "My Shadow and I." by Stevenson. John Siegel, sang "Friend of Mine" and "Mighty Lak a Rose," accompanied by Mrs. Siegel.

Prof. H. O. Ensign, principal of the school, was presented with a letter holder by the P.-T. A., and teachers in appreciation for his cooperation in the work of the year. Mrs. Leo McGavren was presented with her past president's pin.

HEALTH TOPIC AT BEACH CITY W. C. T. U. MEET

RAILBOA ISLAND, May 26.—Mrs. Emily Cox, state director of health, was the main speaker at the W. C. T. U. meeting in the home of the body president, Mrs. Flora Beatty, Wednesday.

Mrs. Cox, who has been in the health department for 30 years, gave an interesting illustrated address on health, confining her remarks especially to foods and their place in various diets. Mother's day, being a red-letter day in W. C. T. U. activities, a short service was held. Mrs. Sara Bowman gave a short talk on the life of Susanna Wesley and how her life affected her sons, Charles and John. Community singing was enjoyed and Mrs. Delphia Phillips, evangelization director to the local body, led the devotional exercises.

During the business meeting, two plans for raising funds were adopted and will be put into effect at once. The national plan, termed "The Crusade Crucible," carries with it the motto, "Help balance the budget with gold, not beer." The state plan carries the motto, "No quarters for repeal, but quarters for prohibition." Funds raised will be divided among local, state, and national headquarters.

BAPTIST GROUP MEETS

LA HABRA, May 26.—The Woman's society of the Baptist church met Tuesday afternoon. The program was planned by Mrs. J. W. Meier, Mrs. Ralph Zumwalt and Mrs. William Merryman. Mrs. Merryman and Mrs. Zumwalt gave vocal duet numbers and Mrs. Meier led the lesson. The lesson topic was "Stewardship" and the theme was taken from the story of "The Talents."

ADVENTURE OF WAR TOLD AT CLUB SESSION

NEWPORT BEACH, May 26.—James F. Watkins, member of a British munitions-carrying ship during the World war, now a merchant here, once called April his favorite fruit, but since May 24, 1918, he has preferred pineapples. He told members of the Newport Harbor Service club why at their meeting at Lido Isle Wednesday, fifteenth anniversary of the day of probably his most exciting moment.

Watkins related how he had got possession of two hand grenades, known as "pineapples," and was about to empty them of explosives so as to render them harmless and keep them as souvenirs when he was caught in the act by the captain of the ship, who took possession of the "fruit," according to navy rules. They were then at Taranto, Italy, having discharged there a load of munitions for the Allied forces and the captain forgot, during the reprimand the former was given, to empty the grenades of their explosives, which became important later.

The next day, 18 hours out of Taranto, en route back to Baltimore for more munitions, the ship was sunk by a German submarine, going down a little more than two minutes after being struck. The lifeboat in which were Watkins and the captain, and one other lifeboat, were later captured by the German U-boat, whose captain ordered the British captain, his chief engineer and two gunners to go aboard the U-boat.

They were told to hurry, on pain of both lifeboats being sunk, but stalled a little. During the proceedings some smoke was seen on the horizon, and the German officer, looking through his glass, said it was a British ship. This caused more hurrying, and in the mix-up which followed the British officer "solar-plexed" the last of the German officers to go below on the sub, got his gun, threw both the "pineapples" into the sub's machinery and blew it up. Three Germans were saved by the British lifeboats, the rest sinking with their ship.

What are the facts about gasoline? We intend to prove them to your satisfaction. First, we say that besides STANDARD there are several good non-premium gasolines on sale in this vicinity.

We say also...there are many other gasolines NOT SO GOOD.

Even among the good gasolines there is a choice...not all are unqualifiedly good.

One may be unsurpassed in starting, another in acceleration, another in anti-knock, another in mileage.

All the good gasolines can justly claim SOME good qualities — But

STANDARD GASOLINE
is unsurpassed

V. F. W. LEGION WILL PRESENT KREG PROGRAM

Ernest L. Kellogg Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Santa Ana Post of the American Legion will join tonight in presenting a Poppy Day program over radio KREG. The presentation will start at 7:05 and continue for 20 minutes. This program is preparatory to the annual Poppy Day drive conducted by the two veterans' organizations which is scheduled for tomorrow.

Principal speakers on tonight's presentation will be Franklin West, prominent Santa Ana attorney and active in Legion affairs and Carl Beuter, Judge-Advocate of the Los Angeles County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Fred Chapman of the Fullerton Post Veterans of Foreign Wars will read "The Unknown Soldier."

Special patriotic music will feature the program which has been prepared for presentation by G. D. Hendrickson of the Ernest L. Kellogg Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

SCHOOL HEAD TO DELIVER ADDRESS

Frank A. Henderson, superintendent of Santa Ana city schools, will speak tonight over station KREG on a Jaycee program between 8:00 and 8:30, discussing the finances of Santa Ana schools, according to James Torrens, announcer of the program.

In addition to Mr. Henderson's talk, Miss Esther Vogt, Santa Ana Junior college student, will give several piano selections; and Pat McGinty, Irish tenor who has sung on this program before, will present several Irish melodies and old time favorites.

Mr. Henderson will tell the radio audience something of how Santa Ana city schools stand financially which should be of interest to Santa Ana taxpayers.

KREG NOTES

More strange facts, gleaned from the four corners of the world, will be broadcast tonight at 6:15 during the unique presentation of "Strange Facts," which is a regular feature of the Friday broadcast.

"Puzzled Destinies," a drama of conflicting ambitions, twists of fate and unusual circumstances will be given by an all-star cast tonight at 7:45 over KREG. These dramatic presentations are developing into one of the local stations most looked-forward to programs of the week.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 Prudence Penny will be heard in another interesting discussion prepared especially for housewives and mothers and will give more of her helpful suggestions for the home.

DOG HEROES of the FROZEN NORTH

The mainstay of Arctic travel . . . a typical husky sled dog.

True tales of the courage, fierceness and marvelous instinct of the "huskies" that make hunting and travel possible in the Arctic

By JAMES MONTAGNES

ARCTIC dogs are not always born in the Arctic. At Rockcliffe, Ottawa, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are raising dogs for use on the arduous patrols of the force in various parts of the north. The Ottawa-born dogs are, to quote Maj.-Gen. J. H. MacBrien, Commissioner of the R. C. M. P., "proving successful, being a little larger and better coated than the average husky in the north."

From the posts of the force in the eastern and western Arctic, dogs are sent to Ottawa, and there constables with many years of Arctic experience are raising a sturdier breed of sled dog than is now to be found in the north.

With better food conditions and proper care this is being made possible. Annually the shipment of young dogs to the Arctic is increasing.

Nor are huskies the only dogs used to improve the sled dogs used by the police. Largely of wolf breed, the huskies are being crossed with the Borzoi dogs, those long-legged Russian wolf hounds, so graceful and swift of line.

The Borzoi dog alone, says the commissioner, is too long in the leg and not coated heavily enough to keep warm in the extreme cold weather under which the police patrols are so often carried out. And while the results of crossbreeding to date have not been altogether successful, experiments are still going on to develop a sturdier dog for Arctic travel.

THE dog is still the main means of transportation in the Arctic. Airplanes have eliminated much of the work of the dog, but the average trapper, trader, missionary, and police constable still relies on his team of dogs to get him from place to place in winter.

The natives use them exclusively. There are vast sections in the Arctic hinterland and in the eastern Arctic, in what is known as the District of Franklin, which stretches to the North Pole, where airplanes have never flown. There the dog reigns supreme, just as was the case a century ago.

The rival transportation systems have aided each other. Dog teams have come to the rescue of stranded aviators; and planes in the late autumn, just before freeze-up, have taken trappers with sled, dogs and a winter's supplies hundreds of miles into the interior of the Arctic to save weeks of difficult travel.

Snarling, sulky and usually fighting, the Arctic husky has been the means of saving life on numerous occasions.

A fur trader was making his way up the west coast of Hudson Bay in a driving snowstorm. This was no soft snow, thick and fluffy, but needle-sharp particles driven by a high wind, making an effective screen in front of the traveler so that he could hardly see his lead dog.

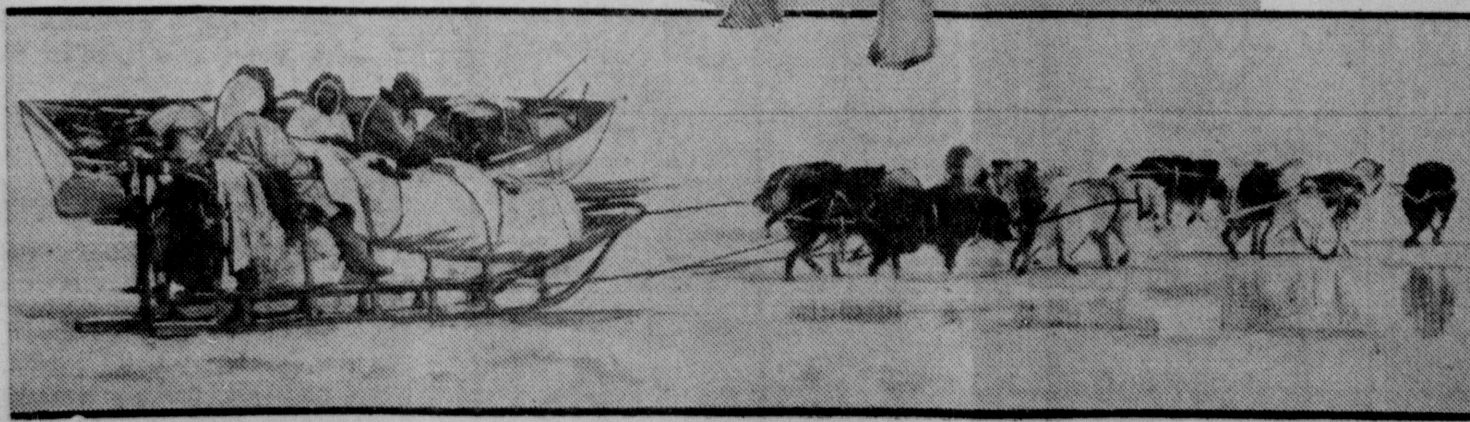

In such a storm he was anxious to travel the least possible distance and steered his dogs so as to pass by a wide promontory. But the wind kept shifting his team about, muddling his sense of direction, and there were no landmarks to guide him in the half-dark Arctic day.

Time after time with his long whip he flicked the ears of his lead dog to have her change direction, and just as often the dog would go back to her own course. At last the trader gave in to the dog. He would let his leader lead him where she would.

And so, through the driving storm, that dog, head lowered, led the team and trader, fighting against the high wind and the stinging snow. The dog was right, for she brought the trader to the post he was making for.

Had the lead dog followed her master's direction, undoubtedly the team and the trader would have been lost. It was the dog's "homing instinct" that saved the day.

The Arctic sled dog has great endurance. Even though these dogs may not have been fed for days they can still travel far distances over the ice and snow, especially when life is at stake.

Thrills without the danger. . . . A couple of fair tourists from warmer climes enjoying a taste of dog-team travel at Banff, Alberta.

THERE was a sick trapper, whose partner was unable to hire Eskimos to take the sick man to Akavik, more than 600 miles along the coast. The trapper sent for the police at Pearce Point, and a constable came with a team.

He and the trapper placed the sick man on the sled, and the dogs braced themselves for the big run, sensing in a way that here was a real job for them.

Over rough sea ice the teams dashed on, cutting down the distance day and night. The ice cut their feet. The trapper and the constable were unable in the hurry to take time off for hunting bear and seal, and the dogs suffered from hunger as well as pain.

Still they went on, till the mission at Letty Harbor was reached. Here the sick man was left. He was unable to go on. The constable continued with his team.

The dogs, with a slighter load, and a good meal in their stomachs, raced on, pulling the now lightened sled over the sea ice and across country. Day after day they kept up the same pace, storm and rough going forgotten in their rush.

They finally made Akavik, having traveled 600 miles at a fast clip all the way. An airplane set out at once for Letty Harbor, picked up the sick trapper and brought him to the hospital.

THE Arctic huskies are dangerous dogs, mainly because of the wolf strain in their make-up. They must be continually watched.

When on the trail they will immediately go for the man who stumbles, and if he falls down, the entire team is likely to be on top of him in short order. That is why two men usually travel together in the Arctic.

Once the dogs have lost their fear of human beings, it is hard to control them. Especially is this so in the eastern Arctic, where they are flesh-eating animals. In the western Arctic the dogs are fed fish to a larger extent, but on the larger islands making up the eastern Arctic, seal and bear and caribou form the main sources of dog feed.

These dogs are not averse to eating their young. That is why, at police posts, when a female husky gives birth to a litter of pups, she is confined to a snow igloo. A police guard is posted at the entrance to the igloo, and the other dogs in camp sit around in a circle.

Should the mother leave her brood even for a few minutes and go outside, and should the guard then relax his watchfulness, one police officer said, the other dogs would have the pups eaten in no time.

BUT they attack humans as well. At Port Burwell, at the top of Quebec, a bunch of dogs attacked a young Eskimo boy. They mauled him around, but the noise of scuffle brought the adults of the tribe out, and they rescued the boy.

Dogs being scarce at the time, the animals were not killed. The police warned the natives not to let their children out alone. Some months passed before the dogs again became hungry for human meat.

This time another Eskimo boy wandered out of the camp alone. The dogs were after him hot foot. They jumped on him, dragged him down, killed him. The boy's body was partly devoured before rescue arrived.

Still the dogs were at a premium, and they were not killed. A white man on the trail was the next victim. They jumped on him, and would have made short work of him, had his companion not scared them off with his whip. Those dogs were destroyed soon after.

At Chesterfield, on Hudson Bay, the post one day heard an unusual amount of howling, snarling and fighting. Rushing out, those at the post saw the dogs were mauling something around.

Running to the beasts, they found the wife of the police sergeant in the midst of a pack of hungry dogs. When she was rescued one leg was so badly lacerated that it had to be amputated. But the shock of the attack had been too great. The woman died a few days later.

FORTUNATELY such cases are few, but they show the ferocity of these sled dogs, without which travel in the Arctic would be impossible in winter time.

Tens of thousands of miles are covered annually by dog team in the far north. Everyone who travels in the Arctic uses the dog team, and the exact mileage covered is hard to tabulate. The police alone, with 500 dogs spread throughout the northland, cover more than 25,000 miles a year by dog teams.

Trips in the Arctic may be short or long, varying from a few miles to 1,500 miles. Long trips are the order of the day in the eastern Arctic, the patrols from Bache Peninsula, 700 miles from the North Pole, the world's most northern police post, seldom totaling less than a thousand miles, covering the most northern of the known Arctic islands.

Dogs pull sleds over all types of country. There are gravel and rock stretches swept absolutely clear of snow, ice caps and yawning descents. They pull heavy sleighs through the bush country, harnessed two by two on a main line, or across windswept sea ice in fan-shape formation from the main trace connecting the heavy sleds.

They travel barefoot—or, over bare sea ice, moccasin-shod to protect their feet, which would otherwise have the skin torn off by the extreme cold of the ice. They must even fight sand storms in the extreme north where the fiercest winds sweep island shores clear of snow and choke dogs and men with stinging sand.

The value of the dog in the northland can only be learned on a trip. Travelers will go out of their way to see to the comfort of their dogs, for in that way lies their sure arrival at their destination.

68 PUPILS OF LA HABRA WILL GET DIPLOMAS

LA HABRA, May 26.—Sixty-eight boys and girls will be graduated from the La Habra grammar school June 8 at 5:30 o'clock. The commencement exercises will be held on the lawn in front of the school building and an appropriate but brief program has been planned.

LYON POINTS OUT TIRE SAFETY FACTOR

New "Golden Ply" Safety Silver-town tires are three times safer than former tires. It is claimed by the B. F. Goodrich company, according to Orval Lyon, Goodrich tire distributor, located at First and Broadway.

"High speeds and smaller wheels, setting up a terrific centrifugal force, together with the heat friction caused by the rapid revolution of the tire on the road and the constant flexing of the tire carcass, bring about tire failure under today's service conditions," Lyon said.

"A new kind of rubber compound, designed to resist heat and to bind more firmly the tread and tire piles, is the development which Goodrich tire engineers claim makes this new product three times safer than any ordinarily constructed tire," he said.

Railroad Car Is Schoolhouse Now

A forest fire destroyed the schoolhouse among other structures in Cochran, Ore., last summer, but there's still school for the youngsters. A railroad donated a passenger coach, others donated desks and blackboards, and school goes on. Above, exterior of the school; below, interior, with class in session.

First Lady, Bonuseers Sing

Cash bonus seeking veterans, encamped at Fort Hunt, Va., received a visit from the nation's First Lady and heard her join in song with them. Mrs. Roosevelt inspected the camp and its kitchens, then met many of the men, singing "The Long, Long Trail" with them. The picture was taken as she sang.

POISON FOR BANDITS

Sawed-off automatic shotguns rigidly mounted on police vehicles have had strong moral effect in preventing hold-ups and car thefts in San Gabriel and Arcadia, according to word to the Automobile Club of Southern California theft bureau. Officer A. W. Haynes of San Gabriel shows how potent weapons may be used while racing after criminals.

Wife Objects To Husband Kissing Nurse; Files Suit

Alleging that her husband admitted that she had "taken a lot" and added that she would "have to take a lot more" if she had the fortitude to "stick with him," Mrs. Lillian Pearcey, of La Habra, has filed suit for divorce from Walter Pearcey, foreman for the Orange County Fruit company.

During the later part of 1932 and the early part of 1933, according to the complaint Mrs. Pearcey employed a girl to care for the couple's youngest child. On one occasion Pearcey kissed the girl in the presence of his wife and when Mrs. Pearcey objected she was forced to apologize to the girl, the complaint says.

The Pearceys were married April 4, 1922, and separated yesterday, according to the divorce complaint.

In addition to a decree of divorce, Mrs. Pearcey is asking custody of the couple's two children, $25 monthly for their support, attorney's fees and costs.

In her bill of complaint Mrs. Pearcey alleges that for the past two years her husband has indulged in a course of cruelty toward her.

CONDUCT FUNERAL OF MRS. GOTHARD

Held Wednesday afternoon from the Smith and Tuthill chapel, in Santa Ana, the funeral of Mrs. Opal Miller Gothard, wife of George Gothard of Wintersburg, was largely attended. Mrs. Gothard passed away Sunday night following an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Gothard at the time of her death was secretary of the Oceanview Parent-Teacher association, was the first president of the Wintersburg Aid society and was a former teacher in the local schools. She was a graduate of the Santa Barbara Teachers' college and of Howard college, in Kansas.

Mrs. Gothard was 31 years old at the time of her death, which occurred in a Santa Ana hospital. She is survived by her husband, George Gothard; two daughters, Vivian and Mary Ann Gothard; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Miller of Long Beach; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Hyton and Mrs. Ona Sell of Long Beach, and seven brothers, Leonard, of the state of Washington; Oliver, of Compton;

Oscar and Archie, of Garden Grove; Raymond, of Whittier; Virgil, of Beverly Hills; Ernest, of Long Beach. The last six were pallbearers. Interment was in Fairhaven cemetery.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. W. A. Matson, pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist church, of which she was a member and also a teacher in the Sunday school. One number, "The City Four Square," was sung by the church choir. A solo, "The Prayer Perfect," was sung by one of the choir members, Mrs. Eva Beem.

Advice to Daughters

YOUNG women who suffer from monthly pains, or headaches, side aches, and women of middle age who suffer from heat flashes and nervousness should take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This is the advice of Miss Frances Jones, 147 W. Franklin Ave., Fresno, Calif.—"When I was growing into womanhood I became sickly and frail, was terribly nervous and suffered much with the pains so common to girls of that age. My weight was down, I had a poor appetite and felt rundown generally. My mother gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I soon gained in energy and picked up rapidly in health."

Where President Roosevelt Plans to Spend Vacation

When President Roosevelt finds a "breathing spell" in his arduous duties, he is to take a vacation at the summer home of his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, on Campobello Island, New Brunswick, just off the coast of Maine. Here is the spacious summer home.

Yo, Heave Ho! And Over She Comes!

Slowly pulled upright after the accidental flooding of her hold while under repairs at Seattle, Wash., the President Madison is shown at the dock after two weeks of hard salvage work. Note the huge weights hanging over the near side of the ship to aid in righting her.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The most embarrassing moment that a man can suffer in a track meet was undergone by little Johnny McEwan, 12-year-old student at Benilde academy... Johnny was on his school's relay team at the Penn carnival... he was to run the second leg... 224 yards... and he ran like the wind... breathlessly he pulled up at his finish line, ready to hand the baton to his successor... nobody was there to take it... desperately he rushed around trying to find the baton... he supposed to run the next leg of the relay... the coach explained later that the lad who was supposed to take the baton from Johnny had become suddenly ill and couldn't run... was Johnny's face red!

SUCKERS NO MORE

Who remembers away back in the good old days when the Boston Red Sox baseball property was a farm for the New York Yankees? And how Harry Frazee, the theatrical man who owned the club, sold Carl Mays, Babe Ruth and others of that great team, wrecking the club completely for the sake of pelf and plunging the outfit into abysmal depths from which it appeared the team never would climb?

NEW DEAL

Since Tom Yawkey took over the club, and under the wise guidance of Marty McManus and Eddie Collins, the Red Sox have begun to show new form. The recent purchase of Rick Ferrell and Lloyd Brown from Phil Ball's Browns make the Red Sox more than just a tough team to beat—actually that Boston team is a genuine contender. The tough battles that Boston gave New York, only to lose by one run, are striking evidence of the new deal at Fenway park.

The weaknesses which remain to be corrected are in the infield. Dale Alexander is no bargain as a first baseman, though a great sifter. Hodapp is an erratic second baseman, but he can crowd the bases. Warfield is a good shortstop, but a weak hitter. Marty McManus was a splendid third baseman in his time, but his days are numbered.

FERRELL HITTER, TOO

The team is a hard-hitting unit, and the addition of Ferrell to the club makes it even more formidable in that respect. Besides being next best catcher to Dickey and Cochrane, Ferrell is a deadly slugger, especially in a pinch.

Maybe Emerson was right in his essay on compensation. The Red Sox sent to the Yankees the stars that made the team a flag winner. And last year Joe McCarthy sent two pitchers to the Hub after it began to appear they would not help New York's chances materially. The two were Irvy Paul Andrews and Henry Johnson. Now these two young men are about as classy as any in the American league. And do they harass New York!

HARNESS HEATS

Hitch up the buggy horse and come along. Nearly $300,000 in purses is offered this year on the Grand Circuit, and from this point it looks like the races are anybody's.

There are no standouts. Last year the Hambletonian, a $50,000 added feature, was conceded to The Marchioness before she left the stall. It's different now. Anybody with a horse under 2:10 can figure himself in for a piece. The buggy brutes this year are hard to decipher. Besides the Hambletonian, at Goshen, N. Y., many other rich fixtures are on the program.

TWO TIPS

Toledo will see the best of them in the Pennsylvania Farm three-year-old trot. A pair of last year's two-year-olds are expected to fling heels at the best of a pack of 165 Dobbins. Calumet, Delco, from Monroe, Wis. is one, and Dorothy, a swift-striding Ohio colt, is the other. When Buffalo dropped out of the wheel, Salem, N. H., stepped right in with $75,000 purses offered in three weeks at Rockingham Park. The entries at Salem have topped the 500 figure.

Bill Crane's track at Goshen will be the world's horse capital in the middle of August. Forty trotters are eligible for the Hambletonian, to be run August 16. Every big money winner of 1932 will appear except The Marchioness, which was purchased by Premier Mussolini during the winter.

EIGHT ON THE WHEELS

Goshen, Cleveland, Lexington, Syracuse, Springfield, Ill. Salem, N. H., Indianapolis and Toledo are on the hoop this year. Cleveland's big race is the Championship Stallion Stake, valued at $12,000. Lexington will stage the Kentucky Futurity, with a prize of $14,000. For two years Syracuse has entertained runners. Now the city comes back to the harness horses, and offers a stake of $6,000 called the Western Horsemen Stake, and the Fox Racing Stake, for the same money.

RESUME MOTORCYCLE RACES AT SANTA ANA BOWL JUNE 3; TRACK ENLARGED, IMPROVED

Many prominent officials of Santa Ana, Fullerton, Orange and Anaheim have been invited to take part in the opening festivities Saturday night, June 3, when the carnival will be raised on the motorcycle racing season at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl.

The motorcycle sport was merely an experiment last year, but it came through the test with flying colors and is now an Orange county institution. Names like "Sprouts" Eder, Miny Wain, Bo Lisman and Red King, are now familiar in the households of the fans, and a crowd of 4,000 at the grand opening would not be a surprise, according to officials.

The greatest improvement over last year will be in the park. Ernie Triplett, Al Kogler and other motorcycle critics were of the opinion last season that the track in the Bowl would be the finest in the Southland if it were larger. The seats are elevated affording perfect view from any spot in the grandstand. However, last year, the track was too short.

Additional excavation has made the Bowl a perfect speedway. The full length of the arena will be used as straightaways and now that the turns are widened, the broadside boys will have an opportunity to exhibit their skill thoroughly.

Much of the spectacular riding of the English sport is enacted on the turns. The bends are perfectly flat and the riders go into a sweeping slide all the distance around. More machines, newer motors, improved and more experienced riders, and other enhanced features of the races should make the inaugural 20-event program a sizzling success.

MRS. DOTY WINS IN COUNTRY CLUB GOLF

With a card of 98-17-81, Mrs. C. V. Doty won first place in women's medal play at the Santa Ana Country Club Thursday. Mrs. L. H. Robinson, 96-11-85, was second in Class A, and Mrs. B. W. McClure, 102-16-86, third.

Other players: Class B—Mrs. E. E. Piper, 106-25-81; Mrs. R. G. Bartwright, 111-29-82; Mrs. W. F. Kistinger, 109-25-84; Mrs. Roy Langley, 111-24-87. Class C—Mrs. Foster Lamm, 113-33-80; Miss Nan Mead, 116-33-83.

BOSTON, May 26.—(UP)—The controversial metric system for track and field measurements was given another setback when members of the Track Coaches' Association of America registered their disapproval of the change from the linear system at a meeting here last night.

FUNK OF WHITE SOX ACQUIRED BY SEALS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—(UP)—The San Francisco baseball club took steps today to reorganizing its badly battered ranks by acquiring Elias Funk, an outfielder, from the Chicago White Sox. Funk will join the last-place Seals next week.

PICK STANFORD TO WIN IC4A Santa Ana, Anaheim Tangle At Bowl

DEPOSED KINGS OF NIGHT BALL STILL COLORFUL

Anaheim's Valencias, defending champions of the National Night Ball league, make their first of two appearances of the season in the Santa Ana Bowl tonight at 8, the old rivals colliding in what will be the first game of the second fifth of a peculiarly split schedule.

The depression finally caught up with Santa Ana and Anaheim this year, and they no longer are setting the dizzy pace for the rest of the coalition. But they remain the two best drawing cards in the game, and with another balmy evening forecast, Santa Ana officials were making arrangements today to handle a crowd of at least 2,000, biggest of the season. Whenever these clubs meet there is plenty of ball game.

Anaheim comes here in the throes of a slump that has Manager Vic Ruedy stumped. The team has lost four in a row, two of the defeats being by Fullerton and Whittier. When the Valencias get pitching, they haven't hit; when they hit they don't get the pitching. Ruedy shook up Anaheim's batting order at Huntington Beach Tuesday without success, and he'll probably jockey it up again here.

Anaheim's chances will be improved by the return to action of first baseman Mal Higgins who has been under suspension on account of trouble with the club. The misunderstanding was ironed out today, and Higgins' name appeared in the lineup announced by Manager Ruedy. First base has been a weak spot in the champions' lineup all season.

Santa Ana's "Eeny" Wilcox is perturbed too. The Stars have been hitting well in the past two weeks, but their once invincible mound staff has been woefully inconsistent. Ira DeBusk in particular has been ineffective. Cornelius has turned in two good games, two poor ones.

With any kind of hurling Santa Ana would have won at least five of its first seven games. The Stars made 13 runs off Sabella at Huntington Beach, yet lost. They combed the "unhittable" Louie Neva of Torrance for eight tallies, and lost again. The Stars of other seasons never lost that kind of games.

Cornelius will work again tonight. The big fellow is a high class pitcher when he's "right," only his failure to mix up his pitching causing his setbacks to date.

Joe went in for relief chores against Anaheim the night the league opened and turned in a fine performance. Bob Ross, a nonchalant sales-bell expert who held the Stars to five scattered hits that same night, probably will hurl for the champions, although Al Bushman might be a last minute selection. Bushman usually has been effective against Santa Ana but his slowness against him trouble Anaheim might cause him trouble against Santa Ana's clever runners.

Anaheim brings here a different unit than the one which swept through the league last summer. Pitcher Errington, infielder Schrott and outfielder Schurshardt all being identified with other teams.

Bushman has replaced Errington on the mound staff. Francis Lemon is still catching. Joe Mene, tall Frenchman, has been converted into a first sacker. Jim McNabb is at second and Al Kogler, though in a distressing batting slump, still mans third. Leo Haserot, onetime Coast league, is a weak batsman but a flashy shortstop. The consistent Bell is playing left field, the veteran Moody right. Charley Zabbia, an importation from Los Angeles, operates midfield. He is reputed to be a long distance swatsmith.

The league-leading Huntington Beach club invades Olive for another contest of more than passing importance. Calling attention to the fact that his men have dropped four games by one run, Olive's optimistic manager, Ben Gelker, today predicted that his Packers still would win the first half. He said they were starting their rush toward the pennant tonight at the expense of Huntington Beach.

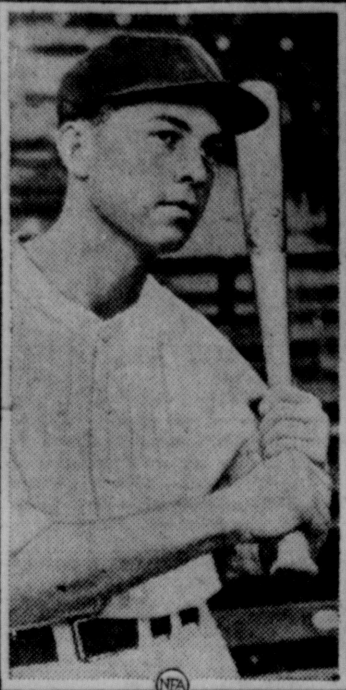

Whittier, which kicked away a no-hit game to Torrance opening night, goes to Torrance. Westminster and Fullerton mingle at Fullerton.

The standings:

| NATIONAL NIGHT LEAGUE | | | |
|-----------------------|---|---|------|
| Torrance | 6 | 1 | .867 |
| Huntington Beach | 6 | 1 | .857 |
| Westminster | 5 | 2 | .714 |

| Anaheim | 4 | 4 | .500 |
| Olive | 2 | 5 | .286 |
| Fullerton | 1 | 6 | .143 |

MEXICANS BEAT BEARS MEXICO CITY, May 26.—(UP)—The Aztec club found University of California pitching to its liking yesterday and proceeded to win an easy 6-1 victory in the third game of the international series. The Bears have won only one of the games.

Here's that Cecil Travis fellow Joe Cronin called back from Chattanooga to save his sinking Senators. Travis, filling in for the injured Ossie Bluege, third, has been fielding and hitting brilliantly.

SANDS OF OLIVE LEADS BATTERS: ED DALEY NEXT

New batting geniuses have come to the front in the National Night Ball league.

Last year Pete Osborn, Randolph Bell, Al Kogler, Leavitt Daley, Elmer Coats, Henry Thiery, Joe Cornelius, Phil Schrott, Jim McNabb and Rod Ballard composed the Big Ten, finishing in that order. Averages compiled today for the "first fifth" of the 1933 season show only Thiery, McNabb and Daley still in the charmed circle.

Ora Sands, Olive second sacker, is out in front with an average of .467; Ed Daley of Santa Ana is second with .438; Tommy Young of Santa Ana third at .429. Others in the first ten are Thiery and Rudy Heman of Olive, Clarence Clemens and Francis Conrad of Huntington Beach, "Boss" Merrill of Santa Ana, McNabb of Anaheim and Leavitt Daley of Westminster.

Orville Schuchardt of Huntington Beach and Louie Neva of Torrance have scored the most runs, eight.

Sparsely crowded at Delhi. The attendance was unexpectedly small, considering the attraction. It was a bad night for Jim all around.

Flynn handled a young amateur middleweight, Al Wofford of Phoenix, but the veteran couldn't coach his protegee to victory over Orange's "Bud" McCarter. Wofford had Flynn's courage, but that was all. McCarter knocked him down twice in the first round, the referee stopping it then to save Wofford further punishment.

Flynn got a nice hand from the loyalists who came to live again old times. The "only man who knocked out Jack Dempsey" had an enjoyable evening, seconding several preliminary boys. He said he was in good health, and happy. He recognized several old acquaintances in the house.

The card itself was short and snappy, six of the ten battles ending in early knockouts. Some of the recent shows have been marathon affairs.

Willie Collins decided Joe Dick in the semi-windup but practically killed himself as a future Delhi "card" by his constant refusal to lead. He was on the defensive throughout, counter-punching Dick beautifully which the bugs didn't appreciate.

Anaheim's Frank Venegas stopped Vic Orsco in the second round. A punch to the chin at the bell in the first hurt Orsco, and he fell an easy prey to Venegas' right hand in the next frame. Boyle Richards received an unwarranted decision over Bill Wana, the referee casting the deciding ballot after the judges disagreed. It was close but Wana did the straighter punching.

SPARSE CROWD SEES FLYNN AT DELHI'S ARENA

An unimpeachable record of one of the great heavyweights of all time, Jim Flynn, failed to revive memories in a modern crop of fight fans here last night, the famed "Pueblo Fireman" making a personal appearance before a sparse crowd at Delhi. The attendance was unexpectedly small, considering the attraction. It was a bad night for Jim all around.

Neal Foster kayoed John Orsco in one, right after Orsco had bumped off Ray Lopez in the same distance. In a terrific slugger bee, Pat Quillan, Anaheim Mexican, stopped Tony Wing in the second. Wing was down three times. Andy Lujan, an outpoint, knocked out Tony Garcia in the second. Al Garcia decided Rico Ponce in the curtain-raiser.

BANK NINE FAVORED IN S. A. CRY LOOP

The First National bank today became an outstanding favorite for Santa Ana City league championship honors as a result of its impressive shutout victory over Bachman's garage, 11-0, at the night. Andy Lujan, an outpoint, knocked out Tony Garcia in the second. Al Garcia decided Rico Ponce in the curtain-raiser.

The United Presbyterians nosed out Weber's Bakery, 11-10, in the curtain-raiser. Hits by Stump and Smiley produced the winning run.

THE TINYTIMES

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

The footprints that the Tinies saw upon the sand filled them with awe. "I've never seen such big ones," said wee Duncy. "This is sad."

"Somebody took the girls away and gosh knows where they are today. It's certain something's happened. Think of what a scare they've had!"

Then Scouty said, "Don't stand and mope. We'll search. That is our only hope. My hunch is that a giant left those footprints on the sand."

"Who knows? He may live right nearby. To find his home we all will try. Then if the girls are captives, we will try to lend a hand."

A GIANT doesn't frighten me," said Coppy. "Some are kind, you see. However, we'll be careful. Come, lads, let's be on our way."

The footprints lead back through the trees and we can follow them with ease. If this were not so serious, 'twould all be just like play."

For quite a time they trailed along. Then Coppy said, "There's something wrong. Here's where the footprints end, but there is not a soul in sight."

"You're wrong," cried Windy. "Way up here they start again, so have no fear. I guess the giant took long steps and ran with all his might."

They traveled for an hour or so. Then Duncy stopped and shouted, "Oh, what is that just ahead of us? That's where the footprints stop!"

"Why, that's a great big trunk you see. Say, this is strange as it can be! I wonder what is in the trunk. Let's open up the top."

They gathered 'round the trunk and then wee Scouty said, "We're stuck again. There is no lock on this old trunk and yet the lid's down tight."

"Hey, wait," cried Windy. "Let me try to pull the stubborn lid up high." But he just couldn't budge it, though he jerked with all his might.

(Duncy accidentally opens the trunk in the next story.)

R. F. C. EXPENSES IN ANAHEIM BUT $1.58

ANAHEIM, May 26.—While an overhead expense of only 1.58 has been incurred in operating the R. F. C. registration office in the city hall John C. Kellenberger, registrar, today announced that $10,517.50 has been spent on labor in the district this month. The total is expected to reach $15,000 by the end of the month.

During April salaries amounted to $8,310 for the 354 men given work. This month there have been 4,207 men with a total registration of 756. Registration is still being carried on and approximately 10 men are registering a day.

Work on the city parkways has now been completed and the men have been transferred to the river dyke where work is still in progress.

BILL HENRY COVERS
I. C. 4-A MEET

Two weeks ago this national third classic looked like a third dual meet between the behemoths of U. S. C. and Stanford. And then a check on the records made by stars in the effete East, the agrarian Middle West and the languid South show that the expected western walkaway will instead be a battle royal of proportions and gusto not seen for years and years. Bill Henry Times' sports editor and technical director of the Olympic Games, is on the firing line at Cambridge to wire Sunday Times' readers the story of this exciting event as only Bill could write it.

The Truth About California's Strangest Millionaire

Here's just a hint of the interest packed into this short biography in the Sunday Magazine. . . . "He bought Catalina Island for $500,000, sold it for $200,000; built a mill of mohogony to spite a man who had rejected him as a son-in-law; gave away $700,000 to establish a world-famous observatory—and lived like a pauper!"

Bloodthirsty Vampires and Red Jumping Grasshoppers!

Ant-regiments 400 miles long—bats that get in your hair—shrunk human heads worn as prize trophies—a death duel under water between man and alligator—some of the milder things seen by a man who chronicles his wild trek through Amazonian jungles.

"Keep Jazz Out of Church!"

—says a minister's daughter who explains why younger people are bored with churches and tells what can be done about it. In her article this girl of seventeen minces no words. . . . For instance she says: "Don't try to make people feel at home in church, they are not at home, they are in the House of God!"

What Forty Cities Think of Los Angeles

Does Boston think we are yokels? New York call us a mushroom? Chicago dub us a hot air factory? Maybe you'll like what other cities say of us and maybe you won't, but at any rate you'll be interested and amused at this national survey of Los Angeles' popularity, if any. You'll also see the other side of the fence as told by a tourist guide who has "sold" Los Angeles to 50,000 visitors.

How Corbett and McLarnin "Stack Up"

Side by side, the big Sunday Sports Section presents the complete record of both fighters, and gives an accurate comparison of the ability, fighting style, strength, punch and courage of challenger and challenged as they look on the eve of their long-awaited battle for the welterweight Championship of the World.

Disclosing the Phony Art Racket

Arthur Miller, Times' art critic, shows how wealthy Southern California art patrons are being misled by fake European nobility through the sale of supposed masterpieces. . . . Also as a warning you'll want to see the unique reproduction of a whole stack of newspaper headlines telling the whole sad story of what can happen when over-eager bridge players get all hot up!

SUITS FOR TWO DIVORCES FILED

Two suits for divorce, both of them alleging desertion, were filed this morning in superior court. In one suit the wife is asking for the decree and in the other the husband is the plaintiff.

Mrs. Hazel Ryan of Santa Ana is seeking a divorce, custody of the couple's 11-year-old son and suggests $50 monthly for his support, from Joseph H. Ryan, former Santa Ana police officer. In her prayer for judgment, Mrs. Ryan asks the court to order her husband to pay an amount sufficient for her son's support and suggests that $50 monthly would be adequate. The Ryans were married August 1, 1917, and separated October 31, 1931.

Lloyd E. Westlake, of Santa Ana, is seeking divorce and custody of his 13-year-old son on the grounds that his wife Mrs. Ella Westlake deserted him November 25, 1931. The Westlakes have two children, the 13-year-old son who is living with the father and a 15-year-old daughter who, according to the complaint is married and living with her husband.

SEEKS JUDGMENT ON TWO COUNTS

Judgment on two causes of action, totaling $980.80, sought in a suit filed in superior court by Julius S. Beck against the S. R. Bowen company of Huntington Beach, S. R. Bowen, G. W. Bowen and J. Calvin Brown.

On the first cause of action Beck alleges that during the past two years he has advanced to the defendants, at their request $542.70 of which $225 had been paid leaving a balance due of $317.70.

On the second cause of action Beck alleged that he performed certain services for the company which were valued at $15 per day. These services were rendered between April 11 and July 13, 1932 and placed the defendants in his debt to the extent of $1395. Of this debt, he alleges $781.90 was paid leaving $663.10 owing.

MANY TIRES NOW NEED REPLACEMENT

A total of 29,000,000 passenger car tires now running are in need of immediate replacement, according to H. L. Bown, manager of Good-year Service, Inc.

The estimate is based on a recent survey made by Goodyear to determine the number of unsafe tires in operation, which showed that one out of every three tires were worn so smooth that they were a real menace to motoring.

"This enormous figure does not include spares that are likely to be in even worse condition than the three checked," Bown stated, or the millions of other tires whose condition borders the danger line. Motorists should consider that the mileage remaining in thin, slick tires is not worth the risk involved in their continued operation, particularly now when they can buy brand new Goodyear tires at such ridiculously low prices."

ASK FLOWERS TO DECORATE SOLDIER GRAVES

An appeal for flowers to decorate the graves of some 600 veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be collected at designated places, was issued today by the Women's Relief Corps, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, and Sons of Union Veterans, according to a statement by the committee in charge of arrangements.

The appeal is particularly addressed to school children in the city, who are requested to bring the flowers to the school buildings next Monday morning where they will be collected by representatives of the veteran organizations.

In order to obtain the huge amount of flowers and greenery needed to decorate the large number of graves, a plan has been worked out whereby citizens desiring to donate flowers for this purpose, also may leave them at the following residences: Estelle Gray, 1001 Cypress; Ida Miller, 510 West Santa Clara; Gertrude Record, 801 Spurgeon; Belle McCornell, 811 West Third; Hannah Huntington, 907 South Main; Kate Sutton, 903 Olive street; Leola Dietrich, 812 Garfield; Edith B. Moore, 424 West Second; Luella Hill, 1908 Bush; Addie Gardner, 1602 North Broadway; Minnie McClure, 1241 South Birch; Kate Rinsched, 114 South Bristol; Pearl Nelson, 2042 Oak street; Nellie Parker, Yorba street, Tustin; and Ida Mae Clem, 1608 West Third.

Those having flowers, but no way of delivering the same, are requested to phone the following numbers: 1914W, 727R, and 4284V.

Men Wanted For Forest Work

Byron Curry, director of the Orange county welfare department, today received a request from M. H. Davis, assistant forester of the Cleveland National Forest, stationed at San Diego, for the services of about 40 workmen who will be able to report for duty early next week.

According to Curry, he will receive applications today for the following positions: Four cooks, two blacksmiths, four carpenters, two plumbers, two electricians, four automobile mechanics, 10 truck drivers, and 20 men having experience in trail work, directing the work of work crews.

The compensation, Curry added, is $1 a day and board.

CITY LEAGUE ENDORSES GAS TAX MEASURE

The League of Municipalities of Orange county met at the Golden Bear cafe, Huntington Beach, last night and heard an interesting talk by Ted Craig, member of the legislature, from this county. Craig discussed bills pending before the legislature and bills to be voted on at the coming special election.

He dwelt at length on the proposed bill that would provide for using one-fourth of a cent a gallon of the gas tax for city streets, the money to be spent under the approval of the state highway commission. The league voted to ask Governor Rolph to sign this bill.

The league also adopted a resolution opposing the proposed increase of three-fourths of a cent a gallon tax on gasoline by the federal government. In discussing bills effecting the oil industry Craig mentioned a bill that prevents the selling in California of oil produced in other states over the amount allowable under conservation rules or laws. This oil is classed as excess oil and its shipment from other states into California is said to be extremely harmful to the oil industry of this state.

Another oil bill explained by Craig provides that all oil reclaimed after being used, must be sold from labelled containers, stating that it is oil reclaimed after being previously used.

Mayor Hogue of Brea presided as chairman of the meeting. Practically every Orange county municipality was represented by its mayor. The next meeting of the league will be held on the evening of June 22, probably at Newport Beach. It was decided that the mayor of the city where the meeting is to be held shall provide the speaker for the meeting.

CARBONDALE TO BE CENTER FOR 200 WORKMEN

The ghost city of Carbondale, in the lower Silverado canyon, is to come to life again with the establishment of a 200 man camp of the Reformation army at the site of the old coal mining project, east of the Harry Mayer place, it was reported today from Silverado.

Instead of stores, hotels and saloons of the old days an army commissary, a mess hall and a recreation hall will be erected and army tents will house the men.

The water supply will come from a natural reservoir. Two years ago Mayer says a blast was fired in a near-by mine. Following close upon the explosion there was a rush of water. The man who had fired the blast narrowly escaped drowning and until this day he has not been able to go down the shaft and recover the coat he had hung up. The water, pure and cold, has flowed continuously since.

Work on the camp is scheduled to begin this week. Tents and equipment will be supplied by the army and work on ditches by the Forest Reserve, it is said.

Other camp sites in Orange county are reported to be under consideration.

BIBLE SCHOOL PICNIC TO BE HELD AT PARK

Members of Bible schools of two Santa Ana churches, the First Christian and the United Presbyterian, will gather tomorrow in Irvine park for their annual picnic.

The First Christian church picnic is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock in the park. Members of the congregation will meet at the church at 9:30 where transportation will be provided for those who have no cars.

Pot luck dinner will be served at noon and a full day of games and entertainment has been prepared. Games will be under direction of D. H. Tibbals, Frank Pierce, music director of the church, is in charge of a short entertainment program to be presented during the noon hour.

Approximately 150 adults and children of the United Presbyterian church are expected to attend that church's picnic to be held in the park tomorrow according to John Henderson. A bus to transport children to the park will leave Edison school tomorrow morning at 9:45 and from the church at 10 o'clock. Transportation will be provided for those who have no way of reaching the park.

Lunch will be served at noon and an afternoon of sport and entertainment will be presented under direction of Dr. G. Emmett Raitt, assisted by the church troop of Boy Scouts.

COLLECTION OF OLD CURRENCY IS INTERESTING

An unusually complete collection of fractional and postal currency, most of it issued on the act of Congress of March 3, 1863, is in the possession of E. J. Miller, 1220 Cypress avenue.

Miller, who came to Santa Ana from Huron, South Dakota, also has a set of four tickets, each bearing a different picture and each printed in a different color, which he purchased when he attended the World's Columbian Exposition while the fair was in progress from May 1 to October 30, 1893. They sold for 50 cents each.

Included in the collection is a three-cent fractional currency bill, small in size, with no silk threads in the paper. The earlier 50-cent fractional currency bills have silk threads woven into them, as notes have now, but smaller denominations did not have, with the exception of one 25-cent bill issued in 1864.

Another bill is a five-cent note redeemable in United States postage stamps or notes. The collection also includes five-cent fractional currency, notes for 10 cents, 25 cents and 50 cents. A 15-cent bill has a picture of Columbia engraved on it, while most of the others have pictures of treasury officials, with several of Lincoln and Washington.

Fifty-cent fractional currency notes were exchangeable in sums not less than three dollars and were received in payment of all dues to the United States and were accepted in any financial transaction with the government except in payment of custom fees.

Consider Plan To Send Legion Drum Corps To Chicago

Preliminary plans for sending the Santa Ana American Legion Drum Corps to the World's Fair in Chicago next September in connection with the National Legion convention to be held there at that time, is under consideration by local Legion executives, Ernest Winbiger, manager of the organization, announced today.

According to Winbiger, the total expense of sending the drum corps to Chicago, will run close to about $6000, in which connection ways and means to raise the necessary funds are being considered, he added.

If doughnuts crack when frying, use less baking powder. They come out best when the dough is as soft as can be handled.

Fruit Concerns Sued By Estate

Acting as executrix of the estate of George D. Parker, Clara B. Parker has filed suit demanding judgment for $751.96 from the Olive Fruit company, A. J. Miller and the Peppers Fruit company.

The amount for which she is suing is alleged to be due the estate for merchandise sold the defendants during the past four years. She alleges in her suit that Parker sold to the defendants merchandise valued at $1041.96 and was paid only $250 leaving the balance for which suit has been filed.

10,839 Bowls Of Soup Served By P.-T. A. In Year

FULLERTON, May 26.—The Parent-Teacher association of the Maple avenue school has served 10,839 bowls of soup since the opening last fall. It was announced today.

Of this number, 5988 bowls were paid for and 5851 were served free. Children of the school did not know which were free bowls and which were paid for.

Mrs. Henry Burdort buys the supplies; Mrs. Mary Lovering lines up the assistants for making and serving the soup. The income from the service has been $48. The cost has not been reckoned.

Association Boards Are Entertained at Tea

Hostesses at a charmingly appointed tea, Mrs. Guy Belcher and Mrs. J. G. Shanafelt entertained members of the new and retiring boards of Julia Lathrop P. T. A. this week in the Belcher home, 418 West Second street. Various flowers were used in decorating.

Mrs. Shanafelt was presented with a handsome luncheon set in appreciation of her services as president of the association during the year just drawing to a close. She had in turn provided dainty course bouquets for her retiring officers.

New officers present were Mrs. E. H. Thompson, president; Mrs. Iva M. Webber, first vice president; Mrs. D. U. Pratt, second vice president; Mrs. Grace Wolff, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dale Griggs, recording secretary; Mrs. E. F. Mathews, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Brown, parliamentarian; Mrs. Guy Belcher, historian.

Guests of Mrs. Belcher and Mrs. Shanafelt, in addition to the new board, were Mesdames F. M. Dixon, J. H. Farren, E. H. Thompson, C. B. Stockton, B. F. Grant, William Prack.

Past Matrons' Group Has Luncheon

Mrs. H. T. Trueblood was hostess at a pleasant event Tuesday afternoon in her home, 516 South Main street, entertaining members of the 1932 Past Matrons' association of Orange county Eastern Star chapters with a daintily appointed luncheon. Sweet peas and larkspur were used in decorating.

Those present were Mrs. Carrie Johnson and Mrs. Stella Schulz, Fullerton; Mrs. Eliza Flippin, Orange; Mrs. Irene Mitchell and Mrs. Florence Wright, Santa Ana, and a special guest, Mrs. Martha Schinn of Santa Fe Springs, who served as deputy grand matron in 1932.

Mrs. Trueblood, a past deputy, is sponsor of the group.

Plans Near Completion for Junior Ebell Spring Dance

When guests congregate tomorrow night in the ballroom of Ebell clubhouse for the semi-formal dance with which Junior Ebell society is closing its season's social program, they are going to find special interest in the murals which will form part of the decorative effect of the ballroom.

For days past, Mrs. Carson Smith and her decorating committee have been engaged in painting these murals, aided thereby through the friendly spirit of the Y. M. C. A. For when facing the problem of a place of sufficient size in which to complete the paintings, Mrs. Smith and her co-workers were delighted to have Ralph Smiley, Y. M. C. A. secretary, proffer the use of one of the big rooms at the Y. One of these murals is eight yards long, so it may be understood how valuable it has been to have sufficient space in which to work.

Nor have other institutions of the city been behind the Y. M. C. A. in lending assistance to the young women of the society and their general chairman, Miss Marian Stanley. The murals of the ballroom will be only a part of the decorative effect to be achieved there in spirit of the great outdoors of the vacation season. Blandings nursery, Winbriars, and Smith and Tuthill, all are loaning quantities of palms to be used in attaining this effect, while necessary trellises and arbors are being made possible through the co-operation of the Barr Lumber company.

With the decorations settled for both clubhouse and patio, (the latter on the Hawaiian theme), Junior Ebell members turned to the music, one of the most important phases of a dance. Leland Auer and his Sweet Rhythms band, formerly connected with the Royal Palms hotel and soon to begin the season at Busch Gardens, will play the evening's program. The dance melodies will be of the latest and most sparkling rhythms, each offering its individual invitation to the dancers. Leland Auer, manager, has promised also to bring a solo dancer from Hollywood, to give specialties during the intermission.

Arrangements for music and entertainment have been made by Mrs. Leland Finley and her committee members, Mrs. Horace Leeding and Mrs. Joel Ogilvie.

Girls' Ebell members who will assist in dispensing line punch in the patio and who will wear Hawaiian leis and garlands with their dainty dance frocks, are the Misses Ruth Baker, Mary Schrock, Janet Klatt, Janet Hollingsworth, Margaret Munro, Jean Munro, Patty Rapp, Jane King, Barbara Rowland, Roberta Tuthill and Betty Jane Moore.

Miss Lolita Mead of the ticket committee, today announced that those who had not yet secured dance tickets from any of the members working on such sales, would be able to procure them at the door tomorrow night.

Those taking part in the affair were Mrs. Whitney, the honoree, and Mesdames Robert Hockaday, Max Redman, Clarence McWilliams, Ernest Ashland, Leslie Pearson, Clem McCulloch, Harry Harlow and the hostess, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. James.

During their visit east, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney expect to spend some time at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, Ill., and at their former home in Fort Fairfield, Maine. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Harlow also are former residents of Fort Fairfield.

On the program will be selections by the Harmony quartet of the society; an electrical experiment by Alden Melvin, Santa Ana junior college student, and xylophone selections by Anna Claire Mauerhan of Anaheim. There will be a candy sale in connection with the affair.

The program is open to the public, with a free will offering to be taken.

Visitors Are En Route to La Grange, Texas

Accompanied by Mr. Lannaux's mother, Mrs. Marie Lannaux, G. A. Lannaux and J. Sumak are en route to their homes in La Grange, Tex., having spent the past week visiting with the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Meric, 1308 South Van Ness avenue. Mrs. Lannaux, who makes her home in this city, plans to remain for an extended stay in Texas with her son.

The travelers plan a pleasurable trip, stopping at the Grand Canyon and at Carlsbad Caverns, N. M., as well as other points of interest on the way home. While here, they made various trips, spending some time at Catalina island and Mt. Lowe.

They are traveling by automobile.

Relief Corps

Following a luncheon yesterday in Knights of Pythias hall, at which they served about 80 guests, members of Sedgwick W. R. C. held a business session of interest. Mrs. Julia Cozad, president, was in charge.

Twenty members and all but one officer were present for the meeting, during which it was reported that 50 calls had been made and 30 bouquets distributed during the past two weeks.

Mrs. Sarah M. G. Brown gave the official report of the department convention held at Berkeley, with Mrs. Cozad and Mrs. Geraldine Beall adding items of interest on the convalescence.

The next meeting is to be held June 14, with a flag day program at 1 o'clock preceding the meeting.

Handkerchief Shower Comes as Farewell Compliment

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitney's plan for a four months' trip east, with departure about June 1, was incentive for a pleasant party given when Mrs. John James and Mrs. Alta Cook were co-hostesses, complimenting Mrs. Whitney with a handkerchief shower.

The affair was given in the home of Mrs. Harry Harlow, 1920 North Ross street, where colorful blooms of the season had been arranged to give a festive setting. The afternoon was spent in needlework.

Mrs. Whitney was surprised indeed when little Elaine Harlow, daughter of the home, made her entrance, trocked in green organdy and carrying a ribbon-tied basket filled with handkerchiefs from the assembled group.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Pictures to Be Shown at Endeavor Program

Moving pictures of foreign lands, obtained by Russell Rohrs during a 'round the world' trip from which he recently returned, will be shown tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the First Evangelical church, when the Christian Endeavor presents a program.

This marks the first showing of Mr. Rohrs' pictures, which include scenes of the foreign countries themselves, together with the native people.

On the program will be selections by the Harmony quartet of the society; an electrical experiment by Alden Melvin, Santa Ana junior college student, and xylophone selections by Anna Claire Mauerhan of Anaheim. There will be a candy sale in connection with the affair.

The program is open to the public, with a free will offering to be taken.

Needle Club Continues Philanthropic Work

Organized primarily as a little social group, the Flying Needle club has developed a welfare program that seems quite remarkable in view of its limited membership of seven. But when the club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Bernard Snee, 829 North Parton street, reports showed that in the two weeks since the previous meeting, 119 new and repaired garments had been distributed among needy families, together with 43 cooking utensils and household furnishings.

Club members are already starting on two new layettes, need for which was told them yesterday, and will welcome any contributions that others may wish to make to materials or infant garments. These needs always include flannels and little woolen stockings, which are purchased new by the club.

This was the type of sewing which yesterday occupied the members, interrupted at noon by the serving of an enjoyable luncheon menu by Mrs. Snee.

Two birthdays were celebrated, that of Mrs. Adolph Erickson, who received among various gifts, the club present of a tied and dyed velvet drape, and that of a special guest, Mrs. W. Oman, mother of the hostess, also remembered with gifts. Mrs. Erickson won the hostess prize for the day as well.

Mrs. Snee's guests included in addition to Mrs. Oman, Mesdames Errol Barnes, Frank Brown, F. W. Bergendorn, William Kintz, Adolph Erickson and Miss Elizabeth Bailey.

Chapter Represented at Whittier Dinner

Several members of Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority were in Whittier Tuesday evening attending a banquet at Hacienda Country club, during which 14 members of the Whittier chapter were initiated formally.

Those attending from here were Miss Mary Ford, president of Sigma chapter, and the Misses Lillie Forsberg, Lynette Robb, Ione Hansen, Marie La Brucherie, Ruth Stephenson, Lucille Myer, Lillian McDonald, Dorothy Lindsey, Juanita Fowler, Elsie Siemsen, Delphina Lopez.

Anahelm and Fullerton chapters presided over the ceremony, attended by about 75 guests.

Church Societies

Class Party
Philathes Sunday school class members of the First Presbyterian church shared a covered dish luncheon of recent date, when some 40 of them met at the home of Mrs. H. G. Wilson, 1700 East First street.

Luncheon was served in the pretty garden and was climaxed with a dessert course of strawberry shortcake and coffee prepared by the social committee. Afternoon hours devoted to games and varied party features.

Woman's Council
An all-day quilting meeting was held Wednesday by members of the Woman's Council of Orange Avenue Christian church, who met in the church parlors.

A covered-dish luncheon was followed by Bible study and a business session led by the president, Mrs. Frank Cannon. The group decided to have no meeting next Wednesday. Eighteen members and one guest, Mrs. C. Bartholomew, were in attendance.

First Presbyterian
Executive board members of the First Presbyterian A.I. society were hostesses Wednesday afternoon at the enjoyable social time which followed the program and business session of the group held in the church.

More than 75 members were in attendance at the meeting, whose business interval was conducted by Mrs. Charles Baird, Mrs. A. V. Grey conducted devotional, and "Choices," after which Mrs. M. E. Geeting gave readings, "When Children Grow Up," by Bess Streeter Aldrich, and "Poor Aubrey" by George Kelly.

Fruit punch and home made cookies were served amidst many flowers. Board member hostesses were Mesdames Charles H. Baird, George Munro, E. S. Gaebie, J. H. Nicholson and Miss Leslie Smith. Members of the advisory board, Miss Mary Craig, Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mrs. P. E. Dearth and Mrs. S. A. Jones served.

Auxiliary Presides at Successful Luncheon

Entertaining Tuesday afternoon with a bridge luncheon at the Chicken Shack on the Orange-Anaheim highway, members of the Women's Auxiliary to Santa Ana Typographical union were hostesses at a successful event, attracting a large group of guests. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. R. C. Butler, Mrs. F. E. Stilwell and Mrs. V. C. Shidder.

Following the serving of a delicious luncheon, 12 tables of bridge were in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Leland Ewbank and Mrs. June Faulnier of Compton, who scored first and second high, and Mrs. Robert Smith, who was consoling. Mrs. Minnie Barker won a special award.

Those present were Mesdames Nellie Archer, Myrtle Rosgen, W. Pagenbopp, Harry Stuck, E. W. Andrew, A. L. Henderson, J. A. McArdle, J. W. Parkinson, W. C. McFarren, M. R. Kellogg, E. M. It was announced that members of the Compton auxiliary are having a benefit garden party July 3 in the home of Mrs. Faulnier. Those attending from here are to make reservations with Mrs. R. C. Butler.

Native Daughters

Fully 60 Native Daughters of the Golden West were present Monday night when Santa Ana parlors celebrated May and June birthdays of its members with a chicken dinner in Pythian hall. Special honor was paid the president, Mrs. Mildred Gray, for her June natal date, and Mrs. Louise M. Potts, eldest member of the local parlor, whose anniversary was on the date of the party.

It was disappointing that Mrs. Potts was unable to be present to receive in person the good wishes of her companion Native Daughters, but they were expressed by the beautiful birthday cake and the many flowers sent to her at her home.

Mrs. Muriel Bray and Mrs. Olive Seba planned table decorations, including many central bouquets of particularly lovely flowers, and a corsage of sweet peas and forget-me-nots for each guest. Each place also boasted a small individual cake with one candle and a rosebud. The chicken was fried to a toothsome crispness by Mrs. Elizabeth Marselle, and was served with other dainties to guests coming from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Hollywood, San Bernardino, Ontario and Fullerton parlors as well as Santa Ana.

Special guests included Florence Scheneman of Los Angeles, grand supervisor; Eva Bemus, San Bernardino, district deputy, and Bertha Hitt, Long Beach, local organizer. They were accorded places of honor at the table, and presented with special bouquets.

The program included humorous readings by Mrs. Arnold; solos by Miss Laura Joiner and Spanish songs by Ella May Chapman of Hollywood. There was a business interval conducted by Mrs. Gray, during which plans were made to attend Grand Parlor in Oakland on June 19. Mrs. Gray and Stella Stiffler were elected as delegates. Nominations for officers followed, with a long list of nominees headed by Mrs. May West for the presidency. Election will be held at the first June meeting.

The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Floyd Annin, Mrs. H. L. Ustick, Mrs. Delmar Solesbee, Mrs. Perry C. Woodward, Mrs. Clarence Zinke and Mrs. W. N. Rollo.

SCHOOL PROBLEM CITED BY GREEN

FULLERTON, May 26.—A recent cut of more than 20 per cent in the state appropriation for school books is throwing a real problem in the operation of California schools for the coming year. Inconsideration of the already cut budgets of schools, according to Ray E. Green, superintendent of Fullerton grammar schools.

Green says that according to figures at the county courthouse, more than 1600 students will be graduated from grammar schools this year. The books that the state law requires be furnished the eighth grade student cost, at Sacramento, around $2.35. On the basis of the figure of money allowed for purchase of these books, slightly more than 40 cents per pupil will be provided by the state for the coming year. This sum barely covers the cost of supplying books for the first grade. The balance of the money for those books will have to come from county funds, Green states.

Assemblyman Says Declares Cost Of Government High

FULLERTON, May 26.—Assemblyman Ted Craig outlined the general tendencies of the state government as toward extravagance, speaking before the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce Thursday noon in an informal way. He said the government today is costing more than taxpayers are able to afford and that the tendency of departments is to expand rather than to cut.

Harris, Mrs. Victor Porter, Mrs. Halsey Spence, Mrs. Nellie Stevens, Mrs. Frank

INSTALLATION CEREMONY IS CONDUCTED FOR OFFICERS OF WOMAN'S CLUB OF FULLERTON

FULLERTON, May 26.—The home of Mrs. J. M. Alcorn was beautifully decorated in rose, pink and white garden flowers last night for the closing session of the season of Fullerton Woman's club. Sixty attended to witness the installation of the officers for 1933-34 season.

Mrs. Jennie M. Daniels, who has been re-elected for the coming season, installed her own officers and preceded the installation with an inspirational talk.

The officers are Mrs. Daniels, president; Mrs. A. H. Koch, vice president; Mrs. S. W. Windle, second vice president; Mrs. Archie Ellis, recording secretary; Mrs. E. E. Hummery, corresponding secretary; Miss Minnie Morse, parliamentarian; Mrs. William Starbuck, treasurer; Mrs. A. S. Redfern, federation secretary; Mrs. S. W. Douglas, program chairman; poetry and prose, Mrs. S. S. Twombly; music, Mrs. R. E. Green; transportation, Mrs. F. H. Gobarr; conservation, Mrs. S. W. McCulloch; public welfare, Mrs. Curtis Bray; law observance, Mrs. Grace Ford; press, Mrs. Jesse Chilton; courtesy, Mrs. J. L. Marshall; hostess, Mrs. L. B. Harris; motion pictures, Mrs. Orla Jenks, and auditor, Mrs. J. H. Lang.

Miss Alice Ashley of the University of Southern California was a guest artist who presented a group of soprano solos. She was accompanied at the piano by Benjamin Edwards.

Mr. Edwards presented a group of three numbers. Miss Irene Jounigan of La Habra, played a group of piano numbers. Melvin Morse played a group of guitar numbers and Ralph Greer played a group of violin solos.

Mrs. R. E. Green, music chairman, presented the program. She was introduced by Miss Gertrude de Gelder, program chairman.

Mrs. Daniels' acceptance to the presidency and her past year's work, were commended by Mrs. A. H. Koch in a short talk.

City Nurse Group Holds Tea June 1

FULLERTON, May 26.—To better acquaint the public with the work of the Fullerton City Nurse association, the members are sponsoring a tea at headquarters, 207 West Commonwealth avenue, June 1, in the afternoon. Mrs. Grace Johnson, president, and Mrs. Elizabeth McFadden, city nurse, are in charge of arrangements.

POST EXPECTS TO SELL 2000 BUDDY POPPIES

FULLERTON, May 26.—"There is a poignant story back of every Buddy poppy destined to adorn the lapel of patriotic citizens," Ed Stark, commander of Fullerton post, No. 2073, Veterans of Foreign Wars of United States, said last night at a meeting at Odd Fellows hall, where the post and its auxiliary made final plans to sell 2000 tissue duplicates of poppies of Flanders, the campaign starting today.

In outlining the many fold purposes of the sales, as well as the symbolic memories connected with the poppy of Flanders field, Commander Stark, said:

"The fact that America has long since taken to its heart the Buddy poppy of Flanders fields as its World war flower of memory is eminently fitting and proper. The colorful little blossoms that sprinkle the former battlefields of France and nod so sympathetically over the graves of America's heroes dead sleeping in the soil of Lafayette, will survive forever as America's mute token of tribute to its honored sons.

"It's scarlet silken petals tell of maimed and suffering veterans still confined to government hospitals although the war was ended 15 years ago. To these men, broken in body, mind and spirit, the fashioning of Buddy poppy is a source of income—the only independent income—thousands of these heroes have earned since before the call to arms in 1917.

"For the needy veterans and his dependents, victims of unemployment and misfortune, the Buddy poppy also brings a message of cheer. It provides the funds that make possible a program of relief and rehabilitation throughout the year; an unselfish service rendered by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States in every community where it exists.

"Last but not least, every Buddy poppy worn on Memorial day tells of a contribution made toward the maintenance and development of the Veterans of Foreign Wars national home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., where more than 100 children of the nation's heroes are provided with homes they can call their own; homes their fathers might have provided had they lived to enjoy the blessings of peace."

The drum and bugle corps of the post is to participate in the forming of the new chapter at Orange Monday night, at which time new officers will be installed.

The regular meeting for June will be adjourned to provide for the card dinner dance sponsored by the post and auxiliary, a benefit for the drum and bugle corps. The post and auxiliary will march in a body to the Presbyterian church Sunday morning to attend the annual memorial day services.

MINISTER ASKS FURTHER HELP FOR JOBLESS

FULLERTON, May 26.—Fullerton Unemployed Workers' association held a social gathering Thursday night at headquarters, 233 West Santa Fe avenue, where talks were given by interested persons, and where a program of music and dancing was presented.

The Rev. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of Presbyterian church, appealed for further help for the unemployed, calling attention to the fact that most present employment is temporary relief and that donations of all kinds still can be used. He offered the association the use of his church organization in any way that it might be placed to assist. Verne Baker in a short talk drew attention to the work of co-ordination Mrs. Andrew Block has accomplished through the unemployed organization and other welfare associations of the city.

The program opened with playing of "America" by Mrs. Ada Block. Mrs. Ida Close, accompanied at the piano by Pauline Class, presented a tap dance. The Jackson sisters of Brea presented a group of dance numbers. Robert and Jerry Lance presented a pantomime. Bobby Waits and Beverly Young did a group of tap dances and other numbers. Bobby Waits did a single number.

Georgia Nicklett played a group of piano numbers. Mrs. Ada Block sang a group of numbers. Dorothy Day, accompanied by her brother on a harmonica, gave a tap dance number. Bobby Wischnack, of Olive, accompanied at the piano by Chip Collins, sang a group of numbers.

The Winters children, dancers, did a group of numbers; Alice Ward presented some dramatic readings; Betty Lee Williamson presented a soft shoe dance, and Dave Mackey gave a harmonica solo.

PICNIC OF P.-T.A. SLATED FOR JUNE 5

FULLERTON, May 26.—The annual welcome to eighth grade students and their parents will be tendered again this year by the Fullerton Union High School Parent-Teacher association, when the picnic, the closing event of the season, is held June 5 in Hillcrest park.

Final arrangements were made Wednesday at an executive board meeting at the home of Mrs. J. D. Hardy. The picnic will be pot luck, with those attending bringing their own table service. All eighth grade students and their parents of the whole district are asked to attend.

As part of the business session Mrs. Hardy, president, will announce her committee for the coming year.

After dinner at Mrs. Hardy's yesterday, the members of the board sewed on the friendship quilt.

Woodcraft Club Holds Luncheon

FULLERTON, May 26.—Neighbors of Woodcraft Harmony club met Thursday with Mrs. Clara Gaudin on East Maple street for a covered dish luncheon and afternoon of chatting and sewing. Mrs. George Wonders was assisting hostess.

A feature of the luncheon was presentation of a beautiful birthday cake honoring Mrs. Bessie Appleman and Mrs. Gaudin. Attending besides those mentioned were Florence Ethel, Bessie Stull, Mabel Ellis, Mary Fisher, Kate Wold, Geraldine Wolf, Minnie Ellis, Melba Ziegler, Joyce Wolff and Charles Ferguson.

GARDEN GROVE, May 26.—The last meeting of the executive board of the Grammar School P.-T. A. was held in the Washington school Wednesday morning, Mrs. J. A. Mauerhan, president of the P.-T. A. presided at the business session. Announcement was made of the Fourth District P.-T. A. meeting to be held at Irvine park June 2. A large delegation is planning to attend from here.

It was decided to send greetings and a basket of flowers to Mrs. Albert Schneider and new baby in the Violet hospital. Mrs. Schneider is chairman of the hospitality committee.

Business Women Arrange Dinner

NEWPORT BEACH, May 26.—A large crowd is expected to be out to the dinner-dance that the local Business and Professional Women's club has arranged for this evening at the Newport Yacht club. A chicken dinner will be served with many specialty dances during the meal, followed by dancing for all with "Brick" English's orchestra furnishing the music.

Miss Joan Fairfield and several of her pupils will do the specialty dances at the dinner hour. "Patty" Whitson, Colin Burlingame, Nordice Orcutt, Ann McPhee and Carol Hansen, will do individual numbers. Several group dances will be given by other pupils. The club president, Mrs. Helen Elder, and the Misses Gretha Clark, Janet Wilson, Marie Heffern, Ann Breagar, and Marguerite Way, are in charge of arrangements. Tickets for the evening may be obtained of Catharine Gorton, the club secretary, at the Chamber of Commerce offices, or of Mrs. Elder, at the bank building.

GOOD RECIPES FOR YOUR KITCHEN FILES

Patty's Birthday Cake
(3 egg whites)
2 cups sifted Swans Down cake flour
2 teaspoons Calumet baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 tbsps. butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup milk
1/4 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. almond extract
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring. Fold in egg whites. Bake in greased pan, 8x8x2 inches, in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Cover cake with seven minute frosting and sprinkle with Baker's coconut, southern style, tinted a delicate pink. Insert tiny pink candles into the frosted cake.

Lady Baltimore Cake
(6 egg whites)
2 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down cake flour
1 1/2 tps. Calumet baking powder
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 1/2 cups sifted sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

6 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and cream of tartar, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; fold in egg whites. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Spread Lady Baltimore filling between layers and Lady Baltimore frosting on top and sides of cake.
Chocolate Fudge Cake
(1 egg)
2 cups sifted Swans Down cake flour
2 tps. Calumet baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt

1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 squares Baker's unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 egg, well beaten
1 tsp. vanilla
3/4 cup milk
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add chocolate and blend; then add egg and vanilla. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Bake in greased pan, 8x8x3 inches, in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 1 hour. Cover cake with fudge frosting. Double recipe for two layers.

Orange Biscuits
2 cups sifted flour
2 tps. Calumet baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tps. sugar
4 tps. butter or other shortening
1 tps. grated orange rind
2/3 cup milk (about)
12 cubes cut sugar
1/4 cup orange juice
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Cut in shortening and orange rind. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll 1/2 inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with small floured biscuit cutter. On top of each biscuit place 1/2 cube of sugar dipped in orange juice. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Makes 24 biscuits.

Log Cabin Curlicue Biscuits
2 cups sifted flour
2 tps. Calumet baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tps. sugar
6 tps. butter or other shortening
2/3 cup milk (about)
1/2 cup nut meats, coarsely chopped
1 1/4 cups Log Cabin syrup
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Cut in 3 tablespoons butter. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll 1/2 inch thick on slightly floured board. Dot with remaining butter; sprinkle with 1/4 cup nuts. Roll as for jelly roll. Cut in 1-inch slices. Four syrup into well-greased 7x13x3-inch pan. Sprinkle with remaining nuts and place biscuits on top, cut-side down. Bake in hot oven (425 deg. F.) about 35 minutes. Turn out on plate immediately. Makes eight biscuits.

CONDUCT FUNERAL RITES FOR J. DOAN

ORANGE, May 26.—Funeral services for J. E. Doan, who passed away at his home, 164 North Center street, were held May 23 at 2 o'clock from the C. W. Coffey funeral chapel.
Dr. R. B. McAulay, pastor of Orange Presbyterian church, officiated.

ated, D. E. Claypool sang "Abide With Me" and "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me," with Otis Ingle accompanying at the organ.

Funeralbearers were George Grant, L. E. Ralls, W. F. Crist, C. E. Dutton, George Shoemaker and F. C. Dutton. Entombment was in Fairhaven mausoleum.

Mr. Doan had lived here since 1917. He suffered a stroke more than two weeks ago, having been in poor health for the past year and a half. He was born in Iowa and was a member of the Charlton, Ia., Masonic lodge.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Lillie Doan; a daughter and son, Mrs. Flossie Larimer and Harold Doan; two grandchildren, Roger Larimer and June Doan, of Orange; a sister, Mrs. Clara Bates of Iowa and a brother, Ed Doan of Arkansas.

NEW SCHOOL IS PROPOSED FOR BEACH SECTION

SEAL BEACH, May 26.—School officials here are considering the construction of a new $55,000 one-story, reinforced concrete school building. Marsh Smith and Powell, school architects, are preparing tentative plans and specifications of the new structure. The proposed school will have 10 class rooms, a spacious kindergarten, a library, administrative offices and an auditorium. If the present program is carried out, a special bond election must be called.

The old building was wrecked during the earthquake. Work of razing has been completed. The proposed building will be large enough to accommodate 350 pupils. The present enrollment is 215, according to the principal, J. H. McGaugh.

Work of removing the old building was done with Reconstruction Finance corporation funds. The Seal Beach district was one of the first to obtain such money. A series of public meetings, at which the construction program will be outlined by school officials, is planned. The pupils are finishing this year's work in temporary buildings.

During a ten year period, 5000 patents were issued to women by the U. S. Patent Office.

HONOR FIRE CHIEF AT FAREWELL PARTY

BUENA PARK, May 26.—Members of the Buena Park department and their families, joined in bidding farewell to Chief Charles Owens, chief at a pot luck supper in the Civic hall this week Owens who has acted as depot agent for the Southern Pacific in Buena Park for many years, has been transferred to Coachella. After a brief address by Owens the annual picnic of firemen was announced for June 18. Oscar C. West, assistant chief, will be in charge of the local group during Owens' absence. Reservations should be made with T. H. McGee or W. E. Tice. Ice cream, coffee and lemonade will be furnished by the association.

T. H. McGee, W. E. Tice, Mrs. Marvin D. Coger and Miss Lloyd Allen arranged the dinner. Present were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Owens, Mrs. H. P. King, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. West and son, Charles; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tice and son, Edgar; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Coger, Miss Fern Culp, Preston Owens, Clarence Jaynes, H. F. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. McGee, Tom Nuthall and Kenneth Jones.

Picnics and Reunions

Former residents of Trinidad, Colo., are to have a reunion on Sunday, when they meet at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles for a picnic. The event is scheduled to begin at 11 a. m.

Magnolia School Exercises May 31

Commencement exercises for Magnolia school No. 2 will be held at the Anaheim Union High school Americanization building at Independence next Wednesday evening. R. F. Beswick, assistant superintendent of county schools, is to be the principal speaker of the occasion. Other features will include songs by the sixth and seventh grade pupils.

Three boys are to receive diplomas. They are Ralph Soliz, class president and historian; Louis Soldana, vice president and valedictorian, and Peter Santellan, secretary-treasurer and salutatorian. The annual school picnic is set for Irvine park May 29, according to Elmer H. Hunt, principal.

Neal's Store To Resume Business At Regular Stand

Back in former quarters which have been thoroughly remodeled and renovated, Neal's Sporting Goods store, 209 East Fourth street, will resume business at the old stand today.

Repair work on the store building has been in progress for some time since it was damaged by the earthquake. The store had been doing business in a room next to the regular quarters.

Renovation of the store included the installation of new equipment to meet new demands of trade, it was stated.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

CAN YOUR CHILDREN OUT-SMILE YOU?

NOT if you have the feeling of youth... not if you get your daily supply of the vital elements that youth is made of: proteins, carbohydrates, minerals, vitamins. Nature's own energy food. Yes, 100% whole wheat—nothing added, nothing taken away. Crisp golden biscuits, ready-cooked, ready to eat, with milk or cream. Topped with fruit, it's a dish that makes any appetite snap to attention any time of day! Just try Shredded Wheat for ten days. See if it doesn't make you feel livelier, happier, younger. Let it prove to you, as it has to millions, that it is a VITALLY DIFFERENT FOOD.

When you see Niagara Falls in the package, you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.

SHREDDED WHEAT

ANN MEREDITH'S

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
Toasted tuna fish sandwich with sliced tomato and mineral oil mayonnaise
Pot of tea, no cream or sugar
Calory total 275
For sandwich, toast two thin slices of wholewheat bread, spread with mineral oil mayonnaise and for filling use 4 Tbsps. tuna fish, finely minced, dressed with lemon juice, diet mayonnaise, salt and pepper. Spread on the hot toast, put on top slice and cut in half. Serve with a large ripe tomato, sliced on lettuce and dressed with diet mayonnaise.

An appetizing hot sandwich like this one, a quiet half-hour, a book to read while eating, and hot tea to pep you up—what more can you ask of a meal?

Don't forget those two or three glasses of hot water before breakfast. This flushing out of the whole intestinal tract has just the same effect on your health that daily brushing of the teeth has on their beauty and longevity.

Do you know that water is ejected from the stomach in ten minutes after taking, and the action is much like that of a strong pressure back of a hose. It is easy to see how this "house cleans" the stomach, moving on any waste material that may be lingering by the wayside.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Corn and Tomato Bisque
4 cups milk
1 small can of corn
1 cup tomato pulp (canned)
1 small onion
1 teaspoon minced parsley
4 Tbsps. butter
3 Tbsps. flour
Pinch of soda for tomatoes
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tsp. minced parsley

Put milk in double boiler, add corn and finely minced onion and bring to a boil. Rub the flour smooth in 1-4 cup of cold water and use to thicken the milk. Cover tightly and simmer for half an hour. Rub this corn mixture through a sieve and return to the double boiler.

Heat the tomatoes, add the soda and rub them through a sieve. Add to the corn part, then the butter, bit by bit, with salt and pepper last.

Keep under the boiling point after the corn and tomatoes mixtures have been mixed.

There are approximately 1500 calories in this soup. If served in cream soup cups the bisque will serve six.

This distinctly is not a soup for those on or near a reducing diet; corn, flour, and butter are all foods that work out as energy units or pile up on the body in rolls of fat, lacking the energy outlet.

You Can't Touch It

The foundation upon which any substantial business institution is built is not steel and concrete—it is IDEAS and IDEALS. The most important thing in business is something you cannot touch. It's not the merchandise, the counters or the price tags; it is the policies which make the merchandise the best—the service the most satisfactory.

FACTS BROUGHT OUT REGARDING COUNTY EMPLOYEES

A man was just cleared by a jury from the charge of criminal libel, under conditions that really have a direct relationship to the voters and taxpayers of Orange county. The man charged with the utterance of the libel was a manager of a company owning a building which was utterly destroyed by the quake.

The destruction of the building brought to light a few facts, one of them being that the building was structurally weak; that it was not according to specifications, and the binder of the bricks being not much better than so much dirt taken from the ground, indeed if as good. It evidenced, in the minds of the directors of this corporation, that the overseer of this work, and the one upon whom they relied to see that the construction was carried out according to the specifications, was either incompetent or worse.

It was then they learned that this same man, who had been overseer of this building, had just been selected as inspector of buildings of the county. This taxpayer and manager of this corporation, in indignation, went to his supervisor, and protested against such a man being selected as inspector of other people's work throughout the county. He used naturally very strong language in condemning him. In fact, he raised such a "fuss" that there was only one of two things to do—either the supervisors must let the inspector go, or the inspector would have to go after this man for libel. This was the logic of the situation.

The inspector went after the manager for criminal libel and the trial was held. The facts concerning the inspection, its character, and the failure to conform to specifications, were brought out, and the jury declared the manager not guilty of libel. The inspector is still on the job.

It cost the manager in addition to his and the other people's loss in their building, considerable money to defend his action. He went to the man whom he should have gone to to complain about the selection of this inspector. For his pains he had a lawsuit and further loss.

Again, we have had experience in this line. We protested against the actions of a representative employed at that time by the supervisors. They protected him, and we had to sustain an action for libel. We are confident that the membership of the Board of Supervisors today does not want this kind of a man in their employ. It is unfortunate, indeed, that the facts could not have been brought before the Board of Supervisors, and action taken, without its having to be done through a court under these conditions, and the taxpayer put to this additional expense.

We want to suggest to the taxpayers and citizens of the county that some day it will not be necessary to go through such methods to vindicate justice. We are confident that a majority of the supervisors must have been misled in this instance. But it is now squarely before them. We wonder what the answer will be.

GOVERNOR ROLPH SAVES TAX-PAYERS ADDITIONAL BURDEN

Yesterday we took occasion to commend Governor Rolph for a marked change for the better in the Whittier school. We desire to commend him for another action, and that is the veto of Senate bill 504.

This bill was introduced by the Senator from this county, passed by both houses, both of the assemblies from this county voting for it, and it was up to the governor for signature.

It would have granted many and additional powers to the Board of Supervisors of this county, and among these powers was the power to assess certain taxes for certain purposes without bonds. Under the provisions of this bill, if the Governor had signed it, and it had become a law, more than $50,000 could have been taken out of the taxpayers' pockets, and paid for publicity for the county, and $250,000 in a year could be taken without any vote of the people, to develop harbor improvement in the county.

There was no discussion of this bill in the county. There was no knowledge of the passage of the bill, and in fact, it was learned of simultaneously with the veto of the Governor. We do not know who was behind it. But we know, in the present state of tax conditions, if it had been passed, it would have been entirely possible to have increased taxes to that extent, and it would have mixed things in politics a great deal more seriously than now.

Undoubtedly some of the money that is now spent for advertising by the taxpayers is money worse than wasted. An advertisement paid for by Orange county taxpayers, published in two papers of Los Angeles, declared to the world that there was $75,000,000 damage done by the earthquake, $2,000,000 in Orange county, and this was published at a time when the committees which had charge of the affair knew that the damage was not to exceed one-third of that amount.

If people are using their own money, or money that must be gathered from interested realtors and business men, who are going to be profited by publicity, the use of the money is more carefully observed than when it can be so easily gotten from the taxpayers' till. To grant greater powers for greater levies would be a very serious matter at any time, but particularly so at a period when everyone should be endeavoring to keep down tax rates.

We have always favored the development of our harbor at Newport Beach, and expect to do so, but we believe that when any serious assessment is made, it should be done in the open, with the people who have to pay for it knowing all about it, and approving of it.

The greatest need in Orange county is unity of purpose. There is nothing that tends to disunion and separation more than for the voters and taxpayers to feel that they have no voice in the determination of what shall be done. Give everybody a chance, place the information before them, and let the majority rule! This, in a democratic government, tends to peace and good will.

THE ORDER OF THE PURPLE HEART

Last night's Register carried a list of the names of the men in Orange county who are entitled to and have received the certificates of membership in the order of the Purple Heart. This is an order that it is claimed was formed originally by General Washington, and has been resurrected in more recent days.

The qualifications for certificate and badge are that one must have been wounded in action, or cited for bravery by Major-General Pershing.

In the midst of financial depression, and of controversy over the question of the reduction in pensions and benefits to the ex-soldiers, it is refreshing to have one's mind directed to this phase of the activity of our ex-service men. The heart of the community goes out to those who have suffered on the battle field, and those who merit praise for special courage under any circumstances.

It seemed deeply incongruous, however, to have medals of no intrinsic value in themselves given men by their government at the very moment when their income was being reduced. There are unquestionably some injustices being wrought by a law which, because it cannot take into consideration all of the exigencies of the case, and must be universal in its application, is therefore limited in the degree of justice which it represents. This can be said of it at its best.

If there has been injustice to the people by this great liberality in allowances to ex-service men, it makes two serious wrongs rather than the righting of the one. The great mass of ex-service men themselves have not framed legislation; they have not been directing it; they naturally support the men of their organization who have been elected, and then they adjust themselves to the legislation which has been enacted, which affects them. And when the liberal laws were passed, granting pay, these men believing steadfastly in the justice of the legislation, adjusted their life, and related themselves to this income.

Then, in the midst of deep depression, when they have no other place to turn, but to rely upon what is being received from their government, and which they most sincerely believe to be just and right, in thousands of cases it is taken from them entirely, and in all cases it is reduced very considerably. Then, in the midst of it, a medal is given those wounded or especially courageous.

We feel a deep sense of gratitude to these men. We are proud of our county men who have received and are deserving of this honor, but, some way or other, there is an incongruity in it all just at this time that we cannot help expressing. If this had to come, we wonder if it could not have been brought about more gradually or consummated when the men had some other source to which to look for income.

An Adventure in Learning
Christian Science Monitor

"Go forth under the open sky and list to nature's teachings," sang Bryant in "Thanatopsis." Vacation time approaches when thousands of children and youths released from schools within four walls will place themselves under the tutelage of the outdoors. They will rush joyously to nature's school, and much of that type of schooling comes through camping, which increases in popularity year by year.

Camps have become not only centers of recreation, but of education. It is now recognized that camping offers some opportunities for education not obtainable elsewhere. It is a substitute for the frontier life which has practically vanished from the American scene.

The drift of population to cities has deep significance because of the artificial conditions which it creates for children and youth. Camping helps restore their touch with elements.

The aim of President Hoover's White House conference on children was rounded development of the country's 45,000,000 children. A leader of one of the conference committees saw in camps under proper organization and trained leadership "a new venture willing to make a fresh attack upon the problem of education." His conviction was, "The school intends, typically, to have its pupils deal only indirectly with life, learning about it from what others have to say. Camp is a place where life is in actual process."

The process of education and character building should not be separated, but integrated. Camping renews acquaintance with the sky, the sea, mountain and plain, with trees, plants, birds, animals, and streams; with the wonders of the changing seasons, and with the earth itself. It also meets the natural desire of a boy for adventure, helping in the development of self-reliance, resourcefulness, imagination and independence, which are of the essence of sound education.

Depression Tragedy
Pomona Progress-Bulletin

One of the saddest of all the stories of the depression is the one about the 14-year-old Indianapolis school girl who tried to end her life because her schoolmates taunted her when they found her wearing a shabby pair of shoes which one of their number had thrown away.

The girl was one of 15 children of a jobless miner. The family had no money for shoes or anything else. She had to wear the discarded shoes, which had been found on some scrap heap, or go without.

It has often been remarked that the weight of the depression rests most heavily on the children; and this pitiful little story is a reminder that it is not only the physical deprivation which counts. The mental anguish inflicted on this youngster by the thoughtless cruelty of her schoolmates is the sort of thing that is a long time healing.

Business Might Do Some Studying In Washington

More Truth Than Poetry

A PROTEST

I know but little of the Street;
Its methods leave me cold;
My ignorance is quite complete
Concerning trends of gold;
Unlettered in the money game,
I'm no financial scholar,
But I am worried, just the same,
About that "managed" dollar.

I have a few shreds to cling
Or store upon the shelf,
And I would like, I rather think,
To manage them myself.
It fills me with serene content,
These "iron men" to see,
And I don't want the government
To manage them for me.

I'm sure I'd always like to know
How far this little brood
Of bright simoleons would go
In buying clothes and food,
And if with them I had to part,
Should there be half hard times,
How they'd be rated in the mart
In quarters and in dimes.

I'd hate to eat a managed meal;
To have a managed child—
I make no effort to conceal—
Would shortly drive me wild.
And though I possibly am rash,
I none the less contend
That I should manage all the cash
That I collect and spend.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

COACHING OR CONTROLLING BUSINESS

There are short-sighted captains of industry who are alarmed at what seems to them a dangerous drift of government policy towards a kind of socialistic or communistic control of business and industry.

On the other hand I note that certain of the liberal journals have begun hammering the President for his latest suggestion looking towards the relaxation of our obsolete anti-trust laws and giving to business and industry the opportunity of self-regulation, under necessary government oversight, in the interest of policies respecting wages, hours, prices and profits that will best promote national recovery.

I think the captains of industry who are alarmed and the liberal journals who are critical are both short sighted.

I think the President is on solid ground when he sets out to experiment with what is, in effect, the coaching rather than the control of business and industry.

Readers who have followed with anything like consistency these articles, during the nearly eight years I have been writing them, will know that I have consistently pleaded for the sort of policies respecting wages, hours, prices and profits toward which the thinking of the President seems to be moving.

I have also consistently pleaded that government should experiment with the principle of coaching before it ventures into the field of a more literal and detailed control.

As I have said earlier in these articles, government intervention in business processes is often inept, but government inspiration of business policies may now and then be imperative.

There exists in all the major fields of economic enterprise ample unofficial statesmanship to rectify and to regularize our economic order in the interest of a widely distributed and stabilized buying power, but this far-sighted "unofficial" leadership is hamstrung by the fact that there is no integrated organization of the various fields of economic enterprise with the ablest leadership really dictating nation-wide policy in these fields.

The President will make his greatest contribution to the national future if he succeeds in enforcing the self-governing organization of the various fields of business and industrial enterprise so that, with proper government pressure, these fields will be dominated by their truly farsighted leaders.

DID YOU HEAR ME?

Mrs. Prettyman came out on the side porch, tensed her body to the rigidity of an iron post and screamed, "Donald, Donald, Prettyman, did you hear me?"

Donald, playing within a few feet of her, looked up, blinked, and went on playing. His mother screamed a couple of phrases so her voice could be heard down the valley, and went into the house.

"Did you ever?" said Aunt Mary Ann, knitting her brows at the house across the way. "The poor woman. You know that child never stopped a second? He acted as though he hadn't heard a word she said."

And the probabilities are that he didn't hear a word she said. She screamed too loudly. It is possible to make so much noise telling a child something as to deafen him to the sound of the words. All the child heard was that awful screech and he was used to it. He knew that it meant, Come in for lunch, and that lunch could and would wait for him a certain length of time. Maybe it meant something else and he could only guess.

Loudness is no help in making a child hear. Hearing, in this circumstance, is mental as well as physical. The child has first to hear with his physical ear and then with the ear of his mind. I tell you that hearing, which is of the mind, does not function. The child is deaf to it. "Do you hear me?" is not going to count until the child's mind takes note of what you say.

Children often hear with their ears and remain deaf with their minds because we have not taken the trouble to star their minds to action. When you want a child to hear and to heed, which is the motive for his hearing you, first catch his attention. If he is busy you will have to get his mind off what he is doing and centered on what you are saying. If he is slow to hear get him close to you before you begin to talk. Know that you have his attention. Then, in clear, low tones, tell him definitely, without waste of words, what it is you want him to hear and he will hear.

I have seen teachers lose track of this bit of teaching knowledge when they are trying to make a child understand some difficult point. The child looks blank and the teacher raises his voice and says it louder. Louder and louder he shouts the point and blunder and blunder grows the child's face. Noise drowns understanding.

Even the hard of hearing dislike being shouted at. If you will take the trouble to face the listener, use your lips and talk in a clear, well modulated voice, it is more than likely the hard of hearing person will get what you say. Rarely will shouting help him.

The mind has its share in this hearing. A very large share. It must attend to what is said, interpret it and act upon it. It hears the still small voice that comes, not in the fire, not in the tempest, but in the stillness. Speak softly and he will hear you. Speak to his mind and he will heed you.
